MPC headed for highest court

President of the Heritage Shopping Centre development Joe Shekter told a hearing at St. Albert Municipal Planning Commission Tuesday night he will take the commission to the highest court in the land to get the rights inherent in the ownership of land he wants developed for a shopping centre.

He told the commission: "I have some say on my land, there are certain rights inherent in ownership."

This was in reply to commission chairman Barry Breadner who had asked if Mr. Shekter doubted the authority of city council to make decisions on the Shekter lands. The land in question is bounded by Hebert Road and the St. Albert Trail.

Mr. Shekter said he was prepared to challenge anyone to tell him his proposed shopping centre development was no good. He has been negotiating the deal on the shopping centre with council and MPC for over seven years.

He said of his rights: "I will challenge these rights in the highest court in the land."

He warned MPC "I'm not a dog please don't throw me a bone."

The plans for the shopping centre have been scaled. Please Turn to Page 2

Arena staff were busy removing the 'unsettled' ice Monday in preparation for a surface cleaning of the concrete slab. At press time no substance had been found which would remove a film caused by a concrete curing compound and the arena remains iceless.

No game tonight

Problems plague new arena

Arena supervisor Jack Mussieux is beginning to wear a rather haggard look lately.

Getting the new Akinsdale Arena in operation for an impatient bunch of hockey players and their fans is proving to be no easy feat.

On the weekend arena staff repaired furnaces, compressors and electrical shorts as the process of 'ironing the bugs out' began. Renovations on the concession area have already begun due to a change in plans which saw microwave cooking scrapped for the conventional grill and deep fry method. The reason for the change is increased capacity to handle the surge of hamburger, hot dog and french fry customers who elbow up to the booth at period breaks.

A leaking roof appears to be under control at least while temperatures remain on the cold side. An ice build-up on the new roof occurred as a result of the high temperatures involved in curing the concrete slab early in the winter. At present the experts consulted on the problem, feel the problem will disappear with the arrival of warm summer weather and will not likely reappear again.

Public skaters will have to make due with temporary seating or sit on the floor to lace their skates for the time being. The seating, designed for this purpose, which appeared in the Phillips-Barrett architectural concept somehow did not turn up in the specifications given the contractor. Until this misunderstanding is cleared up the city will provide some sort of seating.

But the real problem is the ice itself. Arena staff can't seem to get the stuff to stick to the concrete slab. Air pockets form under the ice popping it loose and causing it to break up. The 'fly in the soup' is a film coating the concrete surface. The film is a curing compound which is used during winter application and so far it has resisted all attempts at removal.

Dog sled racing was a highlight of the Lions Winter Carnival on the weekend. These wild eyed huskies weren't racing when this photo was taken. Their cause for concern was a passing St. Bernard. Apparently they were not accustomed to being outsized.

Dog-sled race winners pull in $3,000

St. Albert's fourth annual Lions Winter Carnival was again a success with the colder weather turning out just right for the major event in the carnival, the dog sled races.

Over 30 businesses in St.

Albert contributed $100 each in sponsorship money for the races.

Dog teams came from as far as Utah, Vernon, B.C., Fort Nelson and Fort McMurray to take part in the races at Lions Park last weekend.

Prize money shared was $3,000.

The races set off from the trestle bridge on the Sturgeon River out on a course around Big Lake.

Ex-mayors urge Chamber support of industrial park

There seemed plenty to beef about at the regular meeting of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce held last Wednesday in the Legion premises on Tache Street.

There was criticism of a recent Gazette article (February 1 issue headed "St. Albert's Industrial Albatross"). Also at one point it seemed that the Chamber was not sure where it should settle itself at the Legion, St. Albert Inn, or the Club Mocombo for regular monthly meetings.

About 28 Chamber members and guests were at the meeting last week.

A feature of the meeting was a Beef and Bouquet session, and the beefs seemed to outweigh the bouquets.

The beef about the February 1 Gazette article on the Campbell Industrial Park came as a result of the introduction on the topic by Chamber member Gary Hodgins. Mr. Hodgins questioned the facts as laid out in the article and said that what

Fire department termed "totally inadequate"

St. Albert's present fire-fighting force of 21 men is "totally inadequate to tackle anything more than a nuisance fire," according to a statement made to city council's committee of the whole Monday night.

Mr. F. James Nichols, of St. Albert, appeared before council to propose that they look into the re-organization of the volunteer fire department. Mr. Nichols told council that he had served as a volunteer fireman in other towns of a size comparable to St. Albert, and explained why he felt the present complement of firefighters was insufficient.

Mr. Nichols said that the present system has only four men per shift. He stated that four men were insufficient in performing rescues, as one acted as officer and one manned the pumper, leaving only two men to operate down to about the 250,000 square foot mark over the time spent on discussing the project, which could have a theatre tied into it.

Mr. Shekter said the development would bring much needed employment and taxes to St. Albert and there was good access to the site from Hebert Road.

Mr. Shekter said the development made good common sense. "there is no reason in the world why it does not make common sense."

Mr. Shekter told the commission that people near the site had been told many years ago they could expect a shopping centre to be developed on it.

He said: "I do not want to be forced to go to court to get what I feel is rightfully due to me."

"But it will not go away by just forgetting about it."

Mr. Shekter was invited to appear before the commission after council had referred the development request back to MPC and staff for further study.

No recommendation on the fate of the site was made at the MPC meeting Tuesday night.

When the shopping centre item came up at the meeting Alderman Breadner opened the discussion by asking Mr. Shekter why he was in attendance. "Did you invite Mr. Shekter?" he asked Mayor Harvey. Mr. Shekter jumped to his feet saying "I'm here because your planning department phoned me that Heritage Shoppers Mall was on the agenda, and I should be here." Alderman Breadner shrugged.

The reason for continued opposition to this commercial development from the Plain Council, and now five out of seven members of the new council, are not clear. The site on Highway 2 north has always been favoured for reasons that have not been made clear either. Nor has it come out why two centres are not favoured, despite the consumer advantage of competitive prices, and the added taxation benefits.

Presumably if the Heritage Mall does go to court, all of the facts will come out.

Arena

Mr. Mussieux, who was formerly with the University of Alberta for nine years as an administrative assistant to the dean of physical education, was in contact with the university in search of an answer to his problem. At present he has had no luck with the two cleaning solutions suggested so far.

Alberta Concrete Products, the company supplying the mixture, have also been contacted to determine the chemical used in the curing but no results had been learned at press time.

Once the concrete surface problem has been solved it will only be a matter of a few hours before the ice is in and ready to go. Late Tuesday afternoon Jack was still shooting for ice by this evening but his realistic estimate was for the Kinsmen skate-a-thon Sunday.

The revamped concession facilities will also be ready for operation by the weekend.

With everything set, fans will be able to enjoy hockey games and figure skating shows in relative comfort. The days of freezing your backside and lower extremities are over for those fans who show up at the new facility. Two furnaces beneath the bleachers keep the concrete at a warm temperature and infra red heaters overhead provide the finishing touch.

While the spectators are able to enjoy the facility in comfort and the hockey players and other skaters will no doubt be pleased with the spacious dressing rooms, tack shop etc., the staff will still have some annoying problems to deal with.

The arena has a brand new Zamboni ice cleaning machine which should do a great job of scraping and flooding the ice. Unfortunately an architectural error resulted in no drainage pit for the machine and the scrapings will have to be flushed down the grate of a manhole where the pit should have been. The arena staff have recommended that a pit be constructed this summer.

The problem of the missing pit was pointed out by the contractor and arena staff back in September but apparently it was too late to make changes at that time.

Another problem staff have already encountered, and will encounter each time the ice is taken out, is the fact that the slab is recessed with a concrete lip on the perimeter. No drains were installed at slab level therefore preventing an easy wash-up with a fire hose as is now done in the Perron Street Arena. The ice chunks must be shovelled out over the lip and water vacuums used to pick up the remaining slush and water mixture.

At present Mr. Mussieux is still studying this problem and no recommendations have been forthcoming at this point in time.

Other than these problems, the facility boasts many fine features including a large scoreboard clock, roomy washroom areas set up to handle handicapped persons, a first aid room, board meeting room, dual ticket booths, a public address system controlled from the timekeepers box and administration area and plenty of storage area for equipment.

The facility will seat 650 people in bleachers along the east wall and a large lighted parking lot will accommodate their vehicles.

There are four dressing rooms all equipped with chalkboards and gang showers plus a referee's room and a dressing room for the St. Albert Junior Saints.

Incidentally, temperature at ice level will be a balmy seven degrees.

And don't forget; there won't be any game in the arena tonight. The Saints game against Fort Saskatchewan has been rescheduled to February 28.

At the end of 1976, the total assets held in Canada on behalf of Canadian policyholders were $26.8 billion. This is an increase of $11 billion since 1970. In addition over $10 billion is invested in Canada by life companies on behalf of U.S. policyholders.

Legion base for Chamber despite complaints

The St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce will continue to use the St. Albert Legion Hall for its regular monthly meetings, for the time being at least.

A motion from Chamber member Harry Hutchings that the Chamber should consider moving back to the St. Albert Inn for its regular monthly meeting was roundly defeated by the Chamber. In fact, Mr. Hutchings tried to have the motion rescinded, but failed.

A member or guest at the Chamber who declined to give his name later said if the Chamber was not happy with the service at the Legion, they should be given a chance first; the Chamber should go to the manager and "if this is not clarified, then you leave."

The Chamber has been meeting in the Legion Hall since New Year, after meeting in the St. Albert Inn most of last year.

Bill Gardiner said that everything had not been roses in the St. Albert Inn, there had been complaints about the air conditioning and "catering there could be subject also."

Chamber chairman Roger Lemieux reminded the Chamber there were only three places where the Chamber could meet and Ray Gibbon said that there was a policy resolution to move each year.

Mr. Lemieux said he had received complaints that the desserts at the Legion had been no larger than a teaspoon and there didn't seem to be the right business atmosphere. There were reports circulating the Chamber that one member of the catering staff at the Legion had recently quit, but it was not clear whether it was over the hassle mentioned by the Chamber.

Mr. Hutchings had expressed the worry earlier that there might be catering problems at the Legion, but said that the food, place and atmosphere was good, but the bar service might have been better.

Purves to meet mayors

Mayor Ronald Harvey told members of council's committee of the whole Monday night that Edmonton Mayor Cec Purves wishes to discuss the matter of annexation.

Mayor Purves wishes to meet with Provincial Minister of Municipal Affairs, Dick Johnson, as well as Mayor Harvey, Reeve Miller of Strathcona and Reeve Flynn of Sturgeon. The subject for discussion will be the bid by Edmonton to annex lands as far as the restricted Development Area (RDA).

Ald. Margaret Smith asked if there was a chance of a meeting between Edmonton and St. Albert city councils, but Mayor Harvey said Mr. Purves had requested a meeting with mayors and reeves only.

RARE OCCASION -- Mrs. Evelyn Fraser (right) is congratulated by Mrs. Wreford O'Hara, after she was presented with the Alberta Rose Pin, the highest provincial guiding award. Only ten of these awards have ever been presented in Alberta. Mrs. Fraser is a Gibbons resident.

Highest guiding award given

Alberta's highest Provincial Guiding Award, the Alberta Rose Pin, was presented to Mrs. Evelyn Fraser of Gibbons, Alberta, for her continuing contribution to the benefit of Guiding in Alberta. The presentation was made by Tamarac Area Commissioner Mrs. Wreford O'Hara at the area annual meeting held February 11, 1978. Only 10 of these awards have been given in the history of Alberta guiding.

Mrs. Fraser's guiding service began in 1952 as captain of the First Gibbons Guide Company, and she remained as their leader until 1972. She holds the Camper's License and has served as Camp Advisor in Kanata Division, a member of the Provincial Camp Committee, and chairperson of the Travelling Campers Fund Committee. She is, at present, camp advisor for Tamarac area.

Among other honours conferred on her throughout her guiding career are the Medal of Merit, Thanks Badge, and 25 year Bar of Long Service. Also honoured was Mrs. Wreford O'Hara, commissioner for Tamarac area. Miss Pauline Vaugeois, deputy area commissioner, presented Mrs. O'Hara with a set of mugs and a serving tray, in appreciation for her contribution to the guiding movement in Tamarac area. Mrs. O'Hara has been active in all phases of guiding. She holds the 10 year Bar for Long Service and was awarded the Blue Thanks Badge.

In other business at the meeting, tribute was paid to three retiring members from the area council, Ruth Horne, Louise Rasmussen and Rita Yates. Pat Corbett was presented with her award for 15 years of service to guiding, while Stella McLaughlin and Dorothy Russell also received awards.

During the business portion of the meeting, Audrey Aylard of Athabasca was elected to a three year term on area council and Pat Webber of Spruce Grove was elected to the executive.

The Tamarac region, which does not include Edmonton, consists of 55 Brownie packs, 27 Guide groups, six Ranger groups and six Junior groups.

Students from Paul Kane and St. Albert High Schools compete in a hamburger eating contest on Friday at the St. Albert arena. Each contestant had to eat five hamburgers each.

The arrest that was not

The Gazette wishes to apologize for an error in last week's RCMP report.

It was reported that RCMP in St. Albert had arrested someone in connection with $150 damage to the Larose Rink Clubhouse February 1, and that charges had been laid.

This week RCMP apologized for the misinformation which led to the Gazette write-up and confirmed that no persons were charged in connection with the damage at the rink. Also, RCMP pointed out that restitution had been made by the responsible party.

RCMP in St. Albert require more Block Parent homes in the St. Albert area. Interested people are asked to stop into the St. Albert Detachment and pick up an application form for becoming a Block Parent.

The local police force is also asking residents for help in tracking down suspicious activities and are urging that residents phone the St. Albert detachment if they feel they have anything to report. All calls are treated in strictest confidence.

The number to call is 459-7721.

Nearly two out of every three dollars paid out in payments by life insurance companies in Canada go to living policyholders. These are payments of matured endowments, annuities, disability benefits, cash surrender values and policy dividends. In 1976, these payments totaled $1,463 million.

WHY NOT LIST WITH US?

MADAME CHAIRMAN — Lions Winter Carnival Queen Allison Leullier, gave a whole new look to city council when she presided as chairman at the council's Committee of the Whole meeting Monday night. Advising Allison at right is Alderwoman Margaret Smith.

Carnival Queen chairs meeting

Lions Winter Carnival Queen Allison Leullier took her first plunge into the turbulent waters of municipal politics this week, and thoroughly enjoyed her adventure.

The 15-year-old Miss Leullier, a student at Sir George Simpson, presided as chairman at the regular meeting of city council's committee of the whole when it met Monday night. In a manner that would do credit to a seasoned politico, Allison moved the business of the committee along at a brisk pace, handling the sometimes convoluted procedural phrases with ease.

When asked about the experience after the meeting, Miss Leullier said she would not hesitate to consider running for office in the future, and said she found the meeting very interesting.

Keys and security discussed by board

The sensitive subject of staff keys was raised at the regular Wednesday meeting of the District 6 school board, and a number of differing opinions were voiced. The debate began with a report on the present key policy given by Buildings and Properties Committee Chairman Scott Friese. The study was made in answer to concerns expressed during the October election campaign.

Mr. Friese said that there are presently eight keys assigned to each school. In addition, access is provided on weekday evenings by maintenance personnel and by custodians on the weekend.

In preparing his report, Mr. Friese consulted with the RCMP, insurance companies and other school systems to collect data on security and the issuance of keys. Mr. Friese said there are currently three provincial studies underway to examine security, vandalism and the replacement of damaged property. On a question from Trustee Shirley McCaffery, Mr. Friese stated that the present key system is functional and has presented no problems.

Mrs. McCaffery then asked if the present policy did not limit the accessibility of schools to teachers.

"If we trust our teachers with our kids, surely we should trust them with a key," said Mrs. McCaffery. She suggested that with the increased presence of teachers in the schools at varying hours, vandalism could be reduced. Mrs. McCaffery stated that there should be as many keys as there are teachers if the teachers are willing to accept the responsibility.

St. Albert Trade Fair on target

Following are some of the highlights of the regular monthly meeting of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce held in the St. Albert Legion Hall last week.

CHAIRMAN FOR the St. Albert Trade Fair Bill Gardiner says 78 booths have been taken so far for the trade fair in the St. Albert Arena, May 5, 6 and 7.

ON MEMBERSHIP for the Chamber this year, Harry Hutchings said: "We hope by the end of February we will be well over the 100 mark and then we will do some prodding to get the other 35."

In keeping with the tradition of 'Barrie', the famous Swiss St. Bernard, this modern contemporary was ready to provide relief for carnival goers this weekend. The photographer was unsure of the keys real contents.

Maintenance facilities may be expanded

The addition of two new schools next year to Protestant School District 6 will necessitate expansion of maintenance facilities. This recommendation was contained in a survey of central office building efficiency, requested by the school board from their Buildings and Properties Committee last November. Committee Chairman Scott Friese also told the board that some slight changes are recommended for the reception area, including a divider and increased seating. In making its report, the Buildings and Properties Committee met with maintenance staff to discuss the building's construction.

Mr. Friese said that maintenance space at the central office location was already limited, and expansion of maintenance areas would have to be considered either at the Central office site or elsewhere. He then moved that the Buildings and Properties Committee be given board approval to study ways to expand the facilities and then report back to the board with its findings.

Dr. Wes Penner asked the precise nature of the proposed expansion. Mr. Friese responded that the facilities were cramped now and said that the additional schools would mean more space for supplies would be necessary as well as room for the increased number of repairs which will come with the greater inventory of desks and other items. More space will also be needed for the storage of snow removal vehicles.

The motion authorizing the committee's investigation carried unanimously.

Schools proceed on schedule

At their regular meeting Wednesday night, trustees of school district 6 heard a progress report on the construction of the Wild Rose and W.D. Cuts schools. Buildings and Properties Committee Chairman Scott Friese said that work on the schools is moving ahead on schedule, and that both architects were satisfied with progress. Severe weather conditions have not hampered construction, said Mr. Friese.

Mr. Friese also said that construction of the Paul Kane Band Room is underway and progressing satisfactorily. He stated there is some question of the availability of acoustical material, but said he hoped the work would fit a 30-day time frame.

Education Committee Chairman Wes Penner said that committee will meet publicly to decide its agenda for a period until June. The results of the committees advertised request for input will be discussed.

Residents of homes adjoining the Ronald Harvey School grounds have requested permission to raise the height of a fence between their property and the school. The fence was constructed by the developer and is on school property. However, the raising of the fence will be paid for by the homeowner at no expense to the board. Mrs. McCaffery moved that the Buildings and Properties Committee examine the legal implications of the adjustment to the fence. The motion carried.

Trustee Gary Hodgins gave notice of motion that the functions and objectives of the proposed Communications Committee be approved.

The committee is being formed to make recommendations to the board on communications, to maintain dialogue with employees, and maintain communication with the public.

It is hoped the committee will ensure opportunities for communication, promote exchange of information and opinion and encourage respect and understanding. The committee will make recommendations concerning news releases.

Men charged in house break-ins

Three St. Albert men have been charged in connection with daylight raids on two St. Albert residences last week.

The three charged by St. Albert RCMP are Larry Michael Sander, age 17, 4 George Place, Donald Ouellette, 17, 13 Gordon Crescent, and Max Carter Paul Mault, 17, 65 Grandview Ridge.

Damage to the two residences amounts to the thousands of dollars and the raids were carried out in broad daylight.

The two residences were the John Kaminski residence, 58 Gresham Boulevard and the James Gates residence, 42 Balmoral Drive.

Entrance to the two houses was gained by kicking down the back doors, and happened in broad daylight between 12 and three in the afternoon.

An RCMP spokesman described a bedroom at 42 Balmoral Drive as "splintered rubble." In addition to damage, certain goods had been stolen from the residences, including some antique items that would be hard to replace.

All the men involved in the break-ins have admitted to them, according to the RCMP. They were tracked down six hours after the break-ins.

The three men are scheduled to appear in provincial court 9:30 a.m. February 22.

The excited lady above was named "Sweetheart of the Ball" on Saturday night at the Lioness Club's annual success, the Sweetheart Ball. Adam Hauptman, owner of Sweetheart Jewellery, places a beautiful tiara on the head of the lucky lady, while her husband looks on. Sweetheart Jewellery also donated a mini-diamond ring for the occasion, as they do every year, and the corsage and boutonniere were donated by Custom Florists.

Next week is Scout-Guide Week

What goes on at a Girl Guide meeting? Who are Busy Bees? When are Brown and Tawny Owls found together? Are Rangers really recycled Guides? Who's a Lone?

Come to Grandin Mall Scout-Guide week, February 19-26, to learn the answers.

St. Albert Division, Girl Guides of Canada will display and demonstrate the activities and extensions of the Guide program during that week.

Scout-Guide Week celebrates the concurrent birthdays (February 22) of the founder of Guiding and Scouting, (late Lord Baden-Powell) and his wife Olave. Lady Baden-Powell was active as chief guide until her death June 26, 1977. The week also provides opportunity for Guides and Scouts to honour the community that has helped their development.

A DANGEROUS INTERSECTION

Mr. Vince Maloney raised a concern of many St. Albert residents at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last week, when he spoke on the dangerous intersection at St. Albert Trail and St. Anne Street.

Negotiating the hill from either the north or south approach does indeed pose a serious problem for drivers of large trucks. It is extremely difficult for them to reduce speed sufficiently in the time available, and of course, Truck drivers new to the situation, will continually be coming through.

A Truckers by-pass of St. Albert could solve the problem and city council would do well to immediately support a WEST by-pass of St. Albert. This route could be completed earlier and at much less cost than an East by-pass. Meanwhile flashing lights and signs advising of the approaching hill might better be placed well back on the top of the hill, rather than over the intersection, as suggested by Mr. Alain at the chamber meeting.

Now that St. Albert is a city, whatever is done will be at the city's expense, as the maintenance of the trail is no longer a Provincial responsibility. If the matter of safety at this intersection was not part of the St. Albert Transportation studies commissioned by the former council, then it should be studied for a report immediately.

Four fatalities and innumerable lesser accidents point to the need for action, as Mr. Maloney pointed out.

The recent trend among Canadian policyholders is strongly toward using policy dividends to buy more insurance. In 1976, 39 percent of dividends were left on deposit, 29 percent were taken in cash, and 32 percent were used to purchase additional amounts of life insurance.

Council trio directed by Plain

- DISGUSTED PROPERTY OWNER LEAVING

Three years ago, full of ambition, an eye to the future, and a heart full of hope, I moved to St. Albert. I purchased a home and got settled. A while later, a more suitable home became available so I rented the first one out and purchased the second, and am paying $2000 per year now in taxes.

My aim was to raise my family here, open a business in this town and get involved in the affairs of community life. With this goal in mind I started to attend some council meetings to learn what it's all about. Well, very soon it became clear to me what it was all about. I was appalled at the proceedings under the leadership of Dick Plain and Co.

The intrigues, the games, the deceit, of council was unbelievable to behold. At one meeting I became so nauseated and incensed, I was forced to go home to keep from getting sick. I stopped going to council and hoped with a new election things would improve. In the meantime I watched many first class business people throw up their hands in disgust and walk away from the town.

Well, now we have a new council. Yet one would hardly know it. The mayor, Ron Harvey and Roger Ayotte are trying to do a good and sincere job. However, the odds are stacked against them. You have the duet of Smith and Breadner now joined with Shields to become the famous trio all dancing to "Dickie's Tune."

Thronson, he's now more confused than ever before, and Bakker is practising her singing and dancing and looking to becoming a great performer in her own right.

Now, with the socialistic ideas of the unholy trio of Smith, Breadner and Shields being directed by Plain, what hope is there for free enterprise in the City of St. Albert? I say none, it's gone down the drain.

I have watched with dismay the unfair tactics of council on the Shell and Heritage Shopping sites in particular, to say nothing of many similar worthy projects.

With this sort of thing going on, this city can only go backwards. Believe me, I would not invest one cent in St. Albert as the selfish interests and stupid attitudes of some of the aldermen are only too apparent.

Well, I have had a bellyful of this. My wife and I have decided to call it quits. We are listing our homes for sale, and when they are gone we shall be leaving St. Albert for good, a little sadder but much the wiser.

Peter Land,
Laydon Drive.

Let us not be coerced or manipulated into doing otherwise, either by developers, surrounding municipal governments or manipulators of public opinion. St. Albert is a good community to live in. Let us hope that our city council will plan methodically for the future, always bearing in mind the needs and desires of the citizens who elected it.

Resident praises past council

I wish to respond to I. Smith's "Rallying call to freeloaders."

It appears that Mr. Smith has the same misconception that some of our elected representatives have, namely that what is good for developers and other businesses is good for the community. Let us make no mistake about it, that is not always the case!

Developers are notorious for their desire to take what they can from communities without considering the needs of desires of the people who live in those communities. It is the job of elected representatives to protect and plan for the needs of the citizens. I congratulate the past council for having done this in an acceptable fashion and hope that the members on the present council continue to do likewise.

at getting the paper to your homes, during the week and on Saturdays, so you can nestle down in your favorite chair after work with your paper.

Through the blizzards and cold we deliver. I can count the number of times we have been late in delivery but Saturday was one of them. My boy delivered half of the papers shortly after they arrived and left himself only a few minutes to put on his hockey equipment and get to his game.

However, after his game he took a short breather and grabbed a bite to eat and started in again to finish his papers. He was greeted at the doors by "Don't you know what time it is?" and "What are you doing delivering at this time?" Also a couple of complaints were phoned into the Journal.

Well people! I helped deliver during the snow and cold this past week and how many of you! were out shovelling the four foot drifts covering your walks. Did you still get your paper on time???

Minor hockey chairman fed up with parents

I would like to thank Mr. Bailey for his letter in last week's Gazette. It came at a time when I wondered if anybody really cared what happens on St. Albert's hockey rinks. We attempt to discipline the players through suspensions, but it is impossible to control parents. I have personally approached parents and asked them to stop screaming at their children and the referees. For my efforts I was told to ----- and that they could yell at whomever they want. All members of my committee have met with the same reactions.

I am at a loss to explain why parents behave in such a ridiculous manner. Do they think they are helping their boys game? Or maybe they are helping that referee because they know so much more about the rules of the game. After all they played it before that young fellow was born. (Have you ever tried to give one of them a refs jersey and whistle. Try it and watch him run). Possibly they feel that a game couldn't be a game if somebody didn't abuse the officials, the coach or the opposition players even if the boys are only seven years old. Whatever their reasoning, it is turning recreation for their children into a battle on ice.

These are likely the same people that are going to be out of town or are too busy to help with the minor hockey organization. Funny how they seem to show up at every game.

We are coming to the point in our schedule where most teams will be looking toward play-off positions. It is at this time and during playoffs that I fear the most because it brings out the worst in parents. They seem to be of the opinion that they are watching the Stanley Cup Finals instead of a young boy enjoying his game.

It would be nice to see our arena filled with parents who can applaud a good play made by either team. If you can't please stay home. The rest of the fans don't need you, we don't need you, your son doesn't need you, and you would probably be happier sitting at home watching an NHL game and running down their efforts.

The farmers dilemma

There has been, and is approaching, a great deal of talk regarding what farmers should do collectively to better their lot. These methods vary from avoiding the issue, quitting, comparison to farmers in less fortunate countries (don't rock the boat, I'm doing O.K.) begging, benevolence, political favor, denying that problem exists, demonstrations, not planting crops, not buying machinery, dumping food, blockading borders, and in some cases, violence. Neither the reticent nor the destructive is the answer.

The following approach is: A uniting of farmers (young and old) with a common bargaining lever "Stop Payment," which has no expression of legislated power unless the producer can prove economic injury, which is easily done with today's prices; thereby giving a two-fold protection for producer and consumer with the government's involvement being arbitration and legislation only. The Stop Payment action to be used without legislation only when supported by the majority of the farmers when they are denied access to the fruits of their own productivity. Or in other words, feel they should not have to support what they cannot enjoy - and even this action has to be morally and economically supported by the community. Morally, because it's legally indecent to ask farmers (or any other free citizen to pay when he's not paid - after production not before). And economically, because it results in a welfare or police state.

Here is an example -

A young farmer borrows $100,000. His payment is $15,000 per year; $5,000 of which is payment on the principal and $10,000 of which is interest. His product price falls to $2 per bushel, when it should be $4 per bushel (economic arbitration decision).

Apply the equation  $$2.00 \text{ over } $4.00 \times $5,000$ . A principal payment of $2,500. This portion payment due and payable. The balance of $2,500 still owed, but not paid and put in moratorium until the product price has risen to $4 per bushel and normalcy resumed.

Now apply the equation to the interest  $$2.00 \text{ over } $4.00 \times $10,000$  equals $5,000. Balance not owing is therefore $5,000 paid as a tax by the taxpayers because they didn't pay over the counter for the bread, beef or eggs.

Therefore, total payment that given year (principal and interest) is  $$2,500 + $5,000$  equals $7,500. The farmer set aside a principal payment of $2,500, plus the taxpayer paid $5,000 hidden tax because he didn't make payment in full for value received over the counter. This clearly shows that a producer may receive $5,000 financial rebate or non-payment $2,500 capital payment abrogation, for every $100,000 invested if the price falls to 50% of arbitration (standard-of-living). Which, is roughly, where it stands now.

Why will it work (government, taxpayer, farmers)?

1) The taxpayer is protected because at no time does he pay more than the product is worth. Fair value over the counter means no unseen tax. The guaranteed standard-of-living (relative income) for the farmers is no higher than that of the consumer.

2) The government is certain of mandate, because they decide the loan recipients eligibility and reliability before the product price assurance is released. This gives them a two-fold protective umbrella - the farmer and the consumer.

3) The farmer is protected after production, not before, because his standard-of-living (income) comparisons are relative to the people he produces for - not alien to as it is now; with no loss of freedom whatsoever. None!

See how simple it is to resolve our dilemma without demonstrations, violence, or benevolence (handouts)?

Now, where will the money come from?

Initially we must have government assistance, but eventually the capital would come from the older and retiring farmers (the older helping the younger farmers), i.e. whereby the retiring farmer shows the confidence in lending money to the young farmers (with government guarantees similar to what the banks have). And they're doing quite well, thank you! Farms are for farmers and this is the way to save the 'family farm' instead of losing them to corporations, and non-farmers.

The foregoing is an expression of economic viability made possible by a strong bargaining lever approach (Stop Payment) and internal financial support made available by the retiring farmers through guaranteed lending to younger farmers, with taxpayer interest responsibilities. Now, let's place our attention on the retiring farmers lending the money. He has faced years of uncertainty while producing, and now through inflation, faces insecurity and uncertainty in retirement while X thousands of citizens enjoy inflation protected pensions. This means the retiring citizens in Canada not protected, as inflation continues, become poorer from day one of retirement; while others relax in the comfort of his productivity. One simple solution to this would be a rebate on his payment of Capital Gains in proportion to the injury inflicted upon his savings by inflation based on a comparable figure in Agriculture (our district agriculturist) and his given inflation protection for that year, and/or that retiring farmers be granted indexed pension protection for dollars withdrawn from savings (usually sale of farm properties). This amount equal on a yearly basis to the amount allotted to comparable indexed protected recipients. The attitude being, that if through our productivity we as farmers protect other people against inflation, then we should have enough backbone to acquire the same for ourselves. On this issue we are endeavouring to seek a majority support of the farmers of Alberta with reference to the coming Provincial and Federal elections.

In over simplification it means, we recognize the ridiculousness of the present situation but do not want the tragedy of either apathy, which is rampant amongst farmers, or extremism which could destroy our way-of-life. Stop payment (only on monies paid to the government) is the only democratic and responsible avenue that a producer may employ, for when we as farmers face up to the situation, we must realize that there are only three ways to bargain - stop payment, stop work, or demonstrations (which can lead to violence). Stop Payment gains the recognition of the problem without injury, and also leaves dollars in the farmers' pocket. Stop work and demonstrations cost both the producer and consumer money, time and effort and create discord. If our (farmers') sense of economic justice considers it legal to ask a farmer to pay when he's not adequately paid, and we as farmers continue to pay; then maybe, we the farmers have forgotten what democratic justice is all about.

In a democracy you do not have to support that which you yourself cannot enjoy, and if you keep supporting it, soon you will not have a democracy - with only ourselves to blame.

I would hope that both consumer and producer, would show unanimous support for the foregoing approach to our balance of payment problems and organizational aspirations. And, they can quite easily do so by attending a rally at the Rich Valley Hall, Friday, February 24, at 8 p.m. with our Deputy Premier, Dr. Hugh Horner, MLA's and other dignitaries in attendance.

Please remember that the "Stop Payment" approach (by itself) neither supports or denies marketing boards, free enterprise approach, per se; nor does it involve the "seemingly" basic decision (am I a socialist or a free enterpriser) which has kept the farmers split for decades. It quite simply has the potential to bring the farmers and consumers together and when we decide what we want, the bargaining power to acquire it within the limits of economic morality.

The issue at this meeting will be indexed pensions - we pay for them for others through our productivity - why not have them for ourselves? A concerted effort at this time will result in economic security, dignity and justified peace of mind in retirement; knowing that your life long toil has not been in vain. Please be there!

President.

Traffic safety discussed at Chamber meeting

Complaints about some of the roads in St. Albert surfaced at the regular meeting of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce last week.

The main item singled out for criticism was the St. Albert Trail itself, at the intersection of Sturgeon Road and St. Anne Street.

As the discussion continued, Chamber member Vince Maloney said it, the discussion, was not sad enough. Four people had been killed at that intersection he said and the "limit should not be 40 miles an hour in a town this size."

"A truck driver say from Montana has no idea what he is getting into when he is on that hill," he added.

"This is a trap of the first order," he said.

Chamber executive member Al Alain, suggested that flashing lights should go over the intersection visible from the top of the hill.

Ray Gibbon wanted the whole matter studied for a report.

Bill Gardiner also complained about the intersection between Bellerose Drive and McKenney Avenue. "Someone will be killed on that corner one day," he said. There should be lights and we should build roads before shopping centres," he added.

St. Albert man victim of PWA air crash

One St. Albert resident was among the 41 people killed in Canada's sixth worst aviation disaster at Cranbrook B.C. last weekend.

Captain Christopher Miles, 30, of St. Albert, who was the pilot of the Pacific Western Airlines Boeing 737 was listed as one of the dead in the mishap. He was the son of Jack Miles, PWA senior vice-president in charge of flight operations.

One of the listed survivors of the 737 crash was stewardess Gail Bunn, also of St. Albert. She was among seven people who came out of the flaming wreckage of the doomed twin-engine jet.

David White, a 20 year old Calgary student described 25 year old Gail as "super, just a super girl." She had been waiting at the back door of the aircraft, "and that's when we started to flee the aircraft."

Apparently Gail had wanted to go back into the plane to help find more survivors.

Controversy seems to surround the cause of the crash which happened Saturday at the Cranbrook airport. There are indications according to Transport Canada that there was a snowblower either on the runway or just off the runway when the accident occurred.

The bodies of Capt. Miles and the co-pilot Peter Van Oort, 25, of Gibsons, B.C., were left in the cockpit of the 737 last Saturday night and not removed until Sunday noon, because the cockpit was badly mangled and a tow truck had to be used to pull the metal apart.

The seven survivors were seated in the rear part of the aircraft.

After impact stewardess Bunn and passenger White were able to walk away from the mangled aircraft, but stopped when they heard a young girl crying. The youngster was strapped in her seat and couldn't get out of the burning craft. They went back in and got her out uninjured.

Keeping Alberta switched on is no light task.

As Alberta's economy grows, so does the demand for electricity. Residential customers use twice as much energy as they did in 1961. In the same time, farm use has tripled — and the population has grown by nearly half a million people. To build new generating plants costs millions of dollars — about five times what it did in the 1960's. At Calgary Power, keeping pace with your needs is a commitment we take seriously. Why? To ensure that Albertans and Alberta businesses light up when they switch on.

Cultural committee polls District 6 needs

In their attempt to assess the cultural needs of St. Albert residents, members of the Ad Hoc Citizens Committee on Culture paid a visit to the District 6 school board meeting on Wednesday night.

Committee Chairman Les Graff told trustees that the committee was exploring the need for cultural facilities in St. Albert. He referred to the various methods the committee is employing to poll public opinion on the subject including a door-to-door mini survey, open houses, questionnaires, weekend workshops and meetings with school boards and other organizations.

Mr. Graff asked the board if they were planning to build any facilities which would include a cultural component, and inquired if the school had need of such facilities. He pointed out the schools' use of Edmonton libraries, theatres and art galleries.

Board Chairman Ernie Wynychuk said he had discussed the meeting briefly with members of the district 3 board, and said there was a need for meeting rooms, more library space and room for arts and crafts. Mr. Wynychuk also pointed out that a decision would have to be made as to whether it would be better to have several small cultural facilities or one centralized area.

Trustee Shirley McCaffery stated she thought the Education Committee would be the appropriate body to advise on the district's cultural needs. She suggested that the teachers should have some input into the discussion.

WYNCHUK'S VIEWS CLEAR

Chairman Wynychuk left no doubt in the minds of the committee as to his views on the relationship between the school district and the proposed facility.

"How would your programs and needs hook into this?" asked Mr. Graff.

"With a corridor between your facility and ours!", stated Mr. Wynychuk promptly.

It was decided that the Education Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Wes Penner, would investigate the district's cultural needs.

Sister St. Joseph passes away at 91 years

On Saturday, February 4, 1978, Sr. St. Joseph died at the age of 91. Sister St. Joseph was born in Deschambault, P.Q. on April 11, 1886. In 1907 she entered the novitiate of the Grey Nuns of Montreal, and was transferred to Youville Home in St. Albert in 1930.

Sister's ready smile and unlimited zeal won for her the admiration and respect of the entire population of St. Albert, and it was commonly asked: "Who in St. Albert does not know Sr. St. Joseph?" Gifted with many talents, her duties were numerous and varied, and she contributed much to her Congregation, to her patients and to her parish.

While ministering to the sick for 21 years, Sr. St. Joseph found time to be involved in many parish activities. Besides organizing and directing several choirs of adults, young people and children, she will long be remembered as the church organist. She played for high masses, weddings and funerals, and regardless of the weather, would go each morning to sign at the high mass celebrated in the small chapel at the foot of the hill. Her apostolic goal and tireless zeal led Sr. St. Joseph into several other activities as well, among which was the first 4H club in St. Albert which she founded.

In 1965, Sr. St. Joseph entered the infirmary of the Grey Nuns Regional Centre in Edmonton. Very quietly, she continued to live fully her dedication to God and humanity by extending her prayers for the Church and all mankind, and kindling her interests in her many friends. Gradually her strength diminished, and she waited patiently for the coming of her Lord.

Foster homes needed here for mentally handicapped

A stray dog wandered into the yard of Marie Stone of Edmonton and her adopted, mentally handicapped son immediately took a liking to the dog. She told him that he'd have to let it out of the house so it could go back to its original home. She found the dog that night in her adopted son's bed.

This is only one of many warm moments that people who have adopted mentally handicapped kids have experienced.

Foster parents must be warm and caring individuals who enjoy children and are committed to meeting a child's individual needs. There are no such foster homes in St. Albert at present but it is hoped that families will express interest in the idea.

The couples who adopt a handicapped child must sign a contract committing themselves for two years.

Sharon Smith, co-ordinator of the Services for the Handicapped with the Family Home Program, said there is no problem with couples reneging on their contracts because most parents find the experience of caring for mentally handicapped children a very gratifying one.

All of the children in the program are between the ages of 5 and 15 and have no severe behavior problems. They are toilet trained, are able to walk and have no major medical problems.

Also, the children must be suitable for a day program and all of the children currently in the program attend schools such as Winnifred Stewart or L.Y. Cairns in Edmonton.

The purpose of the program is to provide a form of specialized foster care with emphasis on encouraging each child's involvement in traditional family activities.

Compatibility of the child with the foster parents and any other children in the family is of great concern.

Pre-placement visits are arranged between eligible children and prospective foster parents.

COUPLES TAKE TRAINING

Couples are thoroughly assessed and are requested to complete a preliminary orientation program at the Centre for the Study of Mental Retardation.

The training involves a 10 session course on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The orientation program is repeated three times a year.

After interviews and orientation and if the parents are suitable then they are approved as foster parents.

An occupational therapist visits weekly to see how the parents and child are adjusting and individual programs are drawn up. The therapists assistance is gradually reduced contingent upon the ability of the foster parents to carry out a program of their own and the development of the child.

Regular follow-up is provided by a community worker from services for the handicapped.

Potential foster parents must be married couples with a maximum of three children in the family including the foster children.

There is a tremendous adjustment for the families and the children involved but currently there are 23 children successfully enrolled in the program.

The program was set up in 1973 to bring children out of the Michener Centre in Red Deer to offer a home and family alternative to institutionalized placement for mentally handicapped children.

Although the program has expanded there is still an ever-increasing need for foster parents.

Foster parents find the program challenging and emotionally fulfilling. At present, foster parents are needed for children with and without behaviour problems.

For further information contact Sharon Smith, co-ordinator, Family Home Program at 427-2817.

Air Cadets in Review

ST. ALBERT R.C.A. [AIR] C. #533 SQUADRON

The second semester began last Thursday evening, our regular parade night. Most cadets are into their new classes and have begun work in earnest. We are getting some very good people from the Leadership and Effective speaking classes and some of these cadets will no doubt be in the forefront of our squadron in a year or two. The cadets partaking in these courses have really been enjoying them, judging from the feedback the officers and staff have been receiving.

Sports teams and drill teams have been practicing as the time for competitions is fast approaching. Cadets participating should be at their peak by that time.

We are hoping for good weather this coming weekend, as our second Camp Wright winter exercise gets underway. Cadets and all will be leaving early Saturday morning. Full details of this activity and hopefully some pictures will be in next week's issue of the Gazette.

Please note that limited enrollments are now being taken and any interested boy or girl, between the ages of 13 and 18, should come down to the Community Hall Thursday evenings 7 p.m. and report to the administration office.

Community Services Report

Community Congress on Voluntarism

The local Teen Society, in co-operation with Volunteer Services of the Provincial Government, will be hosting a Community Congress on Voluntarism on Saturday, March 4, 1978 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The six-hour experience will be designed to help everyone understand their volunteer community better by sharing some thoughts about some important things that have happened to these communities in recent years. A resource material display will be on hand and space will be held for anyone wishing to stay on and discuss volunteer matters at 4:30 p.m.

The Congress will be held at the Hideout Teen Centre, 6 Cunningham Road (basement of the Day Care Centre). There will be a $5 registration fee which will be accepted at the door between 9 and 9:30 a.m. but as limitations will be set you are encouraged to pre-register by sending your $5 cheque payable to the St. Albert Teen Society along with your name, address and phone number to Brian Leonard, City Hall, Grandin and Churchill, St. Albert, T8N 0G2.

Operation Child Care gets interim funding

A determined trio representing Operation Child Care appeared before city council's committee of the whole Monday night, and were later granted their request for $3,000 in interim funding. This was the second appearance before council made on behalf of the program, as the same request had been made a week ago, but was referred to budget discussions. In granting the request, members of council made it clear they felt a change should be made in the subsidy system used by the program in its fees for parents.

Mrs. Amy Olson told council the program needed funding from February 17 until March when provincial budgets are struck. It is hoped that the government will fund the program at that time. The project was initially federally funded, under a Local Initiatives Program grant. The Operation Child Care administrators were not informed that their federal grant was running out until early February, at which time they appealed to the city for interim funding.

Council was told that the program had five people on salary, as was required under the terms of the grant. However, this number could be reduced in the future, as the program will no longer operate under the federal aegis. Maureen Ferris stated that operating costs for one operational year, April to March, amounted to $29,328, while $4,000 was received from parents in fees.

Ald. Barry Breadner asked the group if everyone in the program was subsidized, and Mr. Warren Smith responded that while some are not directly subsidized as they pay the maximum charge, all parents are subsidized by the fact that staff salaries were being paid out of the grant.

Mr. Breadner expressed sympathy for the plight of single parents who needed the program but said he had less sympathy for those families with two parents who were using the program while they could afford to provide care.

"It appears to me we are moving toward a trap that has been laid for us," said Mr. Breadner. "The federal or provincial government fund a program, then we have to decide if we should fund it when the program is in jeopardy."

Ald. Bill Shields said that he would like to see a profile done of the program's users, which would describe their income brackets and give other information. He also recommended that a program evaluation be done.

In its discussion of the matter following the presentation, Ald. Rod Thronson said there were large numbers of "latchkey children," but said that the issue created a problem.

"How far do you go in providing birth to death care," wondered Mr. Thronson. He referred to the "rapid movement into socialistic welfare system" and commented that "projects like this can snowball." He said he would support the interim funding, but said he would want to see the subsidization program re-evaluated. Ald. Shields, Breadner and Smith agreed, and the motion to approve the $3,000 interim funding was carried unanimously.

Ordained in 1953, he was minister at Provost United Church from 1953 until 1956. He received the degree of B.D. from University of London in 1961 and the honorary degree of D.D. from St. Stephen's College in 1972.

Encourage your children to read

By Bob Chaput
Library Services and Media
Catholic School District

I'm sure as parents you often ask yourself the same questions that I do. "Are my children developing good reading habits? Do they watch too much television? How can I encourage and promote good reading habits in my home?"

As you can well imagine, there is no clear cut formula which will guarantee results. However there are certain things that we as parents must remind ourselves:

1. Do we parents read? Or do we just glance at the newspaper?

2. Are there reading materials around our home? e.g. magazines, books, etc. (not just comic books)

3. What are our attitudes towards reading? (or is t.v. or hockey the more important)

4. Does your child have a public library card? (Do they know where the public library is?)

5. Does your child ever bring books home from the school library?

HERE ARE SOME PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS THAT MAY HELP:

1. Set aside a specific time each day for reading. For example, between 9 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. everyday. There is to be no television. This is reading time!

2. Take your children to visit the public library, stay and browse around with them.

3. Encourage the purchasing of books for your home, for some children, there is nothing like the pride of ownership. I have often given my children $5.00 while on a shopping trip, this $5.00 must only be spent on books! I consider this to be a good investment so I try to do it at least once every two months or so.

4. My daughter showed an interest in reading the Nancy Drew series of books, but I was not about to buy her the complete series, so as a compromise I would buy her the first book in the series, she would get the next one only after she read the first -- and so on. She now has almost completely read the whole series.

I spoke to some of our school librarians and asked them to tell me what some of the more popular books for young people were:

Here they are:

Charlotte's Web by E. B. White; Are You There God? It's Me Margaret by J. Blume; Mr. Popper's Penguins by R. Atwater; Henry and Ribsy by B. Cleary; Guinness Book of World Records by McWhirter, Norris, Ross; Charlie and the Chocolate Factory by R. Dahl; The Great Brain by J. Fitzgerald; The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe by C. Lewis; Owls in the Family by Farley Mowat; How to Eat

Fried Worms by T. Rockwell; Charlie Brown Books by C. Shultz; Encyclopedia Brown Boy Detective by D. Sobol; Little House on the Prairie by L. Wilder; A Wrinkle in Time by M. L'Engle; Freaky Friday by M. Rodgers; Its

Not The End of the World by J. Blume; Call of the Wild by J. London; The Outsider by S. Hinton; Is That You Miss Blue? by M. Kerr; I'll Get There, It Better Be Worth the Trip by J. Donovan.

These are just a few. I'm sure that your children can give you lots of suggestions. So next time you are in a shopping centre with your children, go in and browse through some bookstores. You may enjoy the experience.

Students were busy creating ice sculptures in Lions Park Friday. The water used to make the ice has a rather unpleasant side effect as can be seen in the photo on page 17.

U of A Senate seeks public nominations

The University of Alberta Senate is seeking individuals from northern and central Alberta to serve it as public members.

The Senate will soon be electing six persons to serve on it for three year terms which commence July 1 and is inviting nominations.

The Senate is a 62 member body to which the Alberta Universities Act gives the responsibility "to inquire into any matter that might tend to enhance the usefulness of the University." In carrying out this charge, Senate acts as a bridge between the university and the community.

Individuals nominated to serve on it should have an interest in matters concerning the university and time to devote to committee and task force work.

The Senate normally meets as a whole four times a year.

Its members come from many sectors and, in addition to the public elected members, a new member will soon be appointed by the university's Board of Governors, and three new members will be appointed by the Alberta minister of advanced education and manpower.

Four new undergraduate student members appointed by the university's students' union will also be joining Senate this year. The students are the only members who serve for less than three-year terms.

Nominations should be made before February 18, 1978. Information about making nominations can be obtained from the Secretary, The Senate, University of Alberta, Edmonton, T6G 2G8, or by telephoning 432-2268.

Increase made in training allowances

Dr. A. E. Hohol, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, has announced an increase in Alberta Vocational Training (AVT) allowances, effective immediately.

"The increase brings the AVT allowance in line with the rates paid through the Canada Manpower Training Program. Previously, they were only slightly less," Dr. Hohol stated.

Students participating in the plan are paid on the basis of 22 training days per month. The new rates per day (previous rates are in brackets) for students maintaining one residence are as follows:

Single (dependent) $9.00 (6.00); Single (independent) $15.80 (13.00); One dependent $18.00 (16.00); Two dependents $19.40 (18.00); Three dependents $20.60 (20.00); Four or more dependents $21.80 (21.00).

Under the new schedule an independent single student may receive up to $347.60 per month, an increase of $61.60; a student with four dependents as much as $479.60, up from $462. AVT allowances are not taxable and provide short term financial assistance to disadvantaged and disabled persons to undertake training or upgrading to allow them to enter or re-enter the labour force.

Not intended to cover the cost of living, but to reflect additional financial demands placed on students, the program has a number of benefits. While skill training is limited to programs lasting 52 weeks or less, additional time is allowed for academic upgrading. As well as the daily training allowance, the costs of tuition, books, supplies, and day care are paid.

For students who must leave their place of residence and move, one round trip to the institution is provided.

Education psychology chairman appointed

Dr. Harvey Zingle will become chairman of the University of Alberta's department of educational psychology on July 1, 1978.

His appointment, which is effective until June 30, 1983, was announced at today's meeting of the university's Board of Governors.

The academic concerns committee of the Board approved the appointment at its meeting in January.

Dr. Zingle, 43, will succeed Dr. W. H. O. Schmidt who will retire from the university on June 30 of this year.

Dr. Zingle is co-ordinator of the division of educational clinical services within the Faculty of Education and professor of educational psychology.

He studied at the University of Alberta and received a Bachelor of Education degree (mathematics major) in 1956, a Master of Education degree (statistics and research design) in 1960, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree (counselling psychology) in 1965.

He was a teacher and administrator at four Alberta schools before joining the University of Alberta's academic staff in 1963.

Dr. Zingle has taught courses in the area of counselling and measurement, and evaluation and was director of the counsellor education program from 1965 to 1976.

He is a former president of the Psychologists' Association of Alberta.

At the present time, Dr. Zingle is chairman of the Board of Examiners in Psychology (Universities Coordinating Committee) and editor of the publication Canadian Counsellor.

He is senior author of the books A Handbook For Beginning Counsellors (1965), Decision Making (1968), Personalizing Decision Making (1969), The Elementary School Counsellor in the Decade Ahead (1972), and Activities for Classroom Teaching: Primary School Teachers Aid for the Remediation of Learning Disabilities (1975).

Red Deer College votes for pub

Red Deer College Board of Governors voted Wednesday in favour of applying for a liquor lounge licence for the College Campus. Earlier in the week the College students, staff, and faculty favoured the lounge by a 66.1% vote.

The proposed lounge has become a hot issue in recent weeks indicated by the number of letters received by the Board of Governors and to the editors of the local papers. Letters opposing the lounge have been in the majority.

The Alcohol-Drug Education Association of Alberta surveyed 100 people by telephone in Red Deer and area to determine public opinion on the proposed lounge. Of those contacted 69 were opposed, 22 were in favour, and the remaining nine were either uncon-ned or undecided.

A local lounge, frequented by students from Red Deer College, reports that property damage to mirrors, furniture, plumbing fixtures, and walls runs from $1000 to $1500 per month.

Red Deer College is a publicly owned and tax supported institution. Government grants for operational expenses run about $3,500,000 per year, which means that the average student is subsidized by the taxpayers about $1700 per year.

The Alberta Liquor Control Board will be advertising that the Red Deer College has applied for a lounge licence. Anyone who wishes to voice objections may write Alberta Liquor Control Board, Box 2360, Edmonton, Alberta T5J 2R4.

Scott Swan invited to Shaw festival

Northern Light Theatre Artistic Director Scott Swan, whose production of The

I read this sign in a barbershop window: "Don't worry about your hair falling out. Consider what would happen if it ached first and had to be pulled out like teeth!"

In a favorite restaurant recently, my wife and I saw that part of the menu had been covered with tape, which bore new, higher inked-in prices. We weren't amused, until we noticed the message on the menu, which had previously read: "Our prices are most reasonable." The word "are" had been taped over, too, and replaced by an apologetic "were".

First Night of Pygmalion recently opened on the Art Gallery stage, has been invited to join the Shaw Festival in Ontario in early Spring. Executive Producer Richard Kirschner has appointed Mr. Swan an associate director, to work as assistant director with veteran Michael Meacham on Shaw's Major Barbara.

The First Night of Pygmalion, playing at lunch hours and on Saturday and Sunday evenings through February 5, features as a character Bernard Shaw directing his Pygmalion in 1914. Mr. Swan last season directed Shaw's classic one-act Village Wooing, and recently compiled with Northern Light dramaturge Frank Moher a theatrical biography, Shaw: The Freethinker, presented jointly with The Citadel Theatre.

Mr. Swan says he eagerly anticipates working with the accomplished Mr. Meacham, and welcomes the opportunity to develop his skills in Shavian comedy and classical styles, long one of his major interests as a director. "And hopefully I can return from the Shaw with new insights and ideas that will spur Northern Light's continued growth."

Following his April 1st through May 31 tenure in Ontario, he will return to Edmonton to begin planning Northern Light's fifth season.

Scott Swan is a graduate of the Bristol Old Vic Theatre School and the University of British Columbia. He was a co-founder of Northern Light

Theatre in 1975, and as artistic director has helped to guide it to its current prominence as one of Western Canada's busiest theatres, producing both one-act and full-length plays at noon hours and on weekend evenings, and maintaining an active play-development program.

Among his more than 25 productions at Northern Light are Ken Mitchell's This Train, Leonard Melfi's Bird-bath, Thomas Cane's Cubist, Brecht on Brecht, and during the current season, his own adaptation of Barry Broadfoot's Ten Lost Years, a new musical version of Doctor Doolittle, The First Night of Pygmalion, the one-man show Clarence Darrow and John Murrell's Waiting for the Parade.

MP Marcel Lambert puts the torch to the Lions Christmas bonfire Friday night at Lions Park. St. Albert Mayor, Ron Harvey, was on the other side, out of camera range, doing his part of the lighting simultaneously.

New galleries at museum open soon

The Honourable Horst A. Schmid, Minister of Culture, will officially open four major galleries and exhibits Sunday, February 12 at 2 p.m. at the Provincial Museum, 12845 - 102 Ave.

The new Mineral Gallery, revised Dinosaur Gallery, the seismograph exhibit in the Geology Gallery and the new Grizzly habitat will be closed off to the public until the 2 p.m. ceremony.

Naturalist Andy Russell will be a special guest at the opening of the Grizzly habitat on the main floor. Mr. Russell worked closely with Museum naturalists and artists selecting the site to be re-created in the habitat. The serene valley scene of a mother and two cubs near Waterton Park is the actual spot where he did most of his observation and photography of the Grizzlies.

The new Mineral Gallery on the second floor features hundreds of beautiful specimens, including a display of fluorescent samples. The Museum has been preparing its collection for this gallery since 1973.

In the seismograph corner of the Geology Gallery, visitors will see a working seismograph recording the inner activities of the earth. From mid-Pacific shakings to tremors deep inside continental masses, the sensitive instrument will transmit information from a main seismometer anchored to the bedrock in Leduc, to the recording drum in the Museum gallery.

A huge backdrop shows the wreckage of the main street in Anchorage, Alaska, after a major earthquake hit. A panel of text explains the geological events that occur during an earthquake.

Many new specimens and panels of information have been added to the Dinosaur Gallery. Most significant is an enormous fibreglass cast of dinosaur footprints recovered by the Museum's paleontological staff during a summer of field work in the Peace River canyon. The real slab of footprints would be too heavy to display, and the casting actually brings out more detail.

The Museum is open Monday to Saturday 9 p.m. Monday to Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Admission is free.

was really needed was support for industrial development in St. Albert. He said the Gazette "should show support rather than be destructive in approach." (Mr. Hodgins was twice campaign manager for Dick Plain).

Two former mayors of St. Albert, Ray Gibbon and Dick Plain and the new mayor Ron Harvey came into the discussion.

Mayor Harvey pointed out to the Chamber that there should be some activity at the industrial park once the winter clears, in the way of road building and servicing. But he said: "We did not like the article in the paper."

Former Mayor Dick Plain said the park was competitive and he urged people to get the facts for themselves at city hall. He said work on the park had gone on since 1972 under the Ray Gibbon administration and his own and complained that the Gazette had "knocked it in an unfortunate way."

"The last thing we need is to be mucked up with this kind of treatment," he said.

Mayor Harvey said city hall had not had many calls on the article, and Mr. Gibbon suggested the article be gone through "and get the facts as we know them and present the proper information," in the Gazette or the Edmonton Journal.

New Chamber President Roger Lemieux wondered if the realtor selling the park would take after the Gazette. After this the beefs were directed at St. Albert itself.

READY TO PULL OUT OF ST. ALBERT

One person attending the meeting who declined to give his name as he said he was in the process of negotiating with St. Albert in a development matter, admitted that he was ready to pull out of St. Albert because of the obstacles presented by the St. Albert administration and procedures.

"There seem to be so many difficulties to go through, I'm going to move also if I have to go through this."

"It seems the administration leaves much to be desired and should be improved upon," he added.

Dr. Plain said Mayor Harvey and his council would be willing to listen about improving the regulations, but people had to admit the common sense of the regulations.

At the end of the meeting it was pointed out that City Administrator Bob Byron will be at the next Chamber meeting to talk about the Campbell Industrial Park.

firefighting equipment. Mr. Nichols stated that the addition of part of the MD of Sturgeon to the St. Albert fire area added 10-15 percent to the fire department's workload, with only one man added on to each shift. He suggested that if the fire truck were called to the MD, off duty staff must be called in to man the back-up truck.

LIVES IN JEOPARDY?

"I would like adequate protection of my home, my family and my life," said Mr. Nichols, adding that they were put in jeopardy everytime the truck leaves for the MD. Mr. Nichols said that in its present form, the fire department could in "no way" provide adequate protection.

In his proposal that council examine the re-organization of the volunteer fire department here, Mr. Nichols said there used to be several volunteers but that the majority of them had been dropped. He said that the initial cost of the re-organization would be low, and pointed out that most serious fires occur after working hours, so that people who work in Edmonton could participate if they wished.

In regard to the department's equipment, Mr. Nichols said he had been "taken aback" at the state of the equipment, and remarked that although it was "acceptable on paper" some of it was "antiquated." He also indicated that problems would arise when the fire truck served the MD in the region of 137 avenue. The time span involved in coming from that area to St. Albert is too long, said Mr. Nichols. He said that the department could not reach the roof of the hospital, as it had no ladder equipment that would reach. He further stated that available pumping capacity was too little, although a new pumper was on order and should be here in about six months time. Until then however, the department cannot handle a fire at the curling club, the Grandin or Sturgeon shopping centres, or the arenas.

Committee chairman Margaret Smith thanked Mr. Nichols for his interest in the volunteer fire department, and stated there had been no policy to phase out the volunteers. In answer to a question from Mr. Thronson, Mr. Nichols said that the re-organization of the volunteers could ease the strain on the paid firefighters.

Child care programs granted access to schools

Two child care programs have been granted permission to use facilities in school district 6 during the 1978-79 school year, provided that space is available. The approval was given at Wednesday night's regular meeting of the board.

Mrs. Amy Olson addressed the board on behalf of Operation Child Care. She asked that the board approve the program's use of the facilities at Ronald Harvey School and Wildrose School during the 1978-79 school year.

Mrs. Olson told the board the programs will run on regular school days during the hours from 7:30 p.m. to 6 p.m., operating before school, at lunch hour and after school. The program will require the use of the lunchrooms, kitchens and washrooms. On non-instructional school days, full day care will be provided, except on statutory holidays.

Mrs. Olson told the board the program "is very valuable to a lot of single parent families." Operation Child Care presently looks after 20 children.

The other program granted access to District 6 facilities was the Tree House Nursery, which will use space at W.D. Cuts School in Lacombe Park, if available during the 1978-79 school year.

Mrs. Jane Milne told board members the project is self-sufficient and served 50 families for four days per week for two hours a day. The program formerly operated at Bertha Kennedy School. However, that school may be operating a kindergarten in September, so it will not be available.

The Tree House Nursery provides children between the ages of three-five with a program of play experience

Board looks at relation of keys and vandalism

Trustee Gary Hodgins had a wry comment in connection with vandalism and keys. "It might have cost us less money if the doors had been left open," said Mr. Hodgins.

He was commenting on a report on vandalism by Trustee Scott Friese.

He went on to say that the report had ignored the teachers' frustrations with present policy and remarked that District 3 had not been consulted. He indicated that he himself had phoned District 3 Superintendent Bill Zielinski, who had told him that each teacher in the district was issued with a key, and that the issue of keys was not a cause of friction. Mr. Zielinski also said that the district had not suffered any insurance penalty as result of their policy.

Dr. Wes Penner disagreed with Mr. Hodgins' assessment of the report, commenting that Mr. Friese had taken a stand by stating that vandalism increases with the lack of security. Dr. Penner suggested that a joint committee of the Administration Committee and maintenance staff be struck to make recommendations on the matter.

In defence of his report, Mr. Friese said that his intent had been to survey existing policy, and not to comment on it. He stated however, that RCMP sources had told him that the potential for misuse rises with the number of keys issued. He also pointed out that if keys are lost, the locks must be changed

Trustee Shirley McCaffery gave notice of motion that exterior and interior door keys be provided at the discretion of the administration. The motion will be discussed at the board's next meeting

Lend a hand to the arts!

Complaints about the dearth of cultural facilities in St. Albert abound, but those voices seem mysteriously stilled when requests for volunteers are made. The Ad Hoc Citizens Committee has been looking for volunteers to conduct a door-to-door mini survey February 22 and 23, but are short about 50 persons of the 100 required to poll every tenth house. Anyone who would like to help with the survey will be playing a part in giving a home to the city's burgeoning artistic talent. To lend a hand, phone Lois Falkins at 459-7344.

Cultural Committee reports to Council

The Ad Hoc Citizens Committee on Culture has launched itself into the job of finding out what St. Albertans want in the line of cultural facilities and programs. The committee has been making a whirlwind tour of school boards, organizations and clubs, and the latest stop on their cultural odyssey was St. Albert's city council.

Mrs. Doreen Rowe appeared Monday night before council to report on the committee's activities.

Mrs. Rowe reported that 39 questionnaires had been sent out to organizations, and that about half had been filled out and returned. In addition, the committee will conduct a door-to-door mini survey to gather opinions, as well as open houses and workshops for groups and individuals. They are also reviewing all existing briefs that have been prepared

YOUR PASTOR A STRANGE CREATURE

If he is young he lacks experience; if his hair is gray, he is too old; if he has five or six children, he has too many; if he has none he is setting a bad example.

If his wife sings in the choir she is being forward; if she does not she is not interested in her husband's work.

If he speaks from notes, he is dry and uninteresting; if he is extemporaneous, he is not deep. If he spends too much time in his study, he neglects his people; if he visits he is a gadabout.

If he is attentive to the poor he is playing to the grandstand; if he gives attention to the wealthy he is trying to be an aristocrat.

If he suggests improvements for the church he is a dictator; if he makes no suggestions he is a figurehead.

If he uses too many illustrations he neglects the Bible; if he does not use many illustrations he is not clear.

If he preaches an hour he is windy, if he preaches 20 minutes he is lazy.

If he preaches the truth he is offensive; if not, he is a hypocrite.

If he fails to please everyone he is hurting the church; if he does please all he has no convictions.

If he preaches tithing he is a money grabber; if he does not he is failing to develop the people.

If he receives a large salary he is mercenary; if he receives a small salary it proves that he is not much good.

Jehovah's Witnesses attend assembly

Over 80 members of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, travelled to Edmonton last weekend to attend a two-day circuit assembly for Alberta Circuit Three at the Jasper Place Composite High School.

Mr. Beauchamp, spokesman for the local congregation, reports that over 1230 persons attended the public talk "Have Faith in the Good News" delivered by Mr. Tom Didur, of Toronto, district representative of the Watchtower Society.

Mr. Didur pointed out that with today's conditions of high crime, inflation, lack of trust, honesty and respect for officials, it is difficult to put faith in anything. As a result, millions of persons worldwide have no hope for the future. Mr. Didur stated that there is hope for the future and that this hope can be attained by having faith in the good news of God's Kingdom as taught in the Bible.

Mr. Beauchamp, further stated that the assembly program dealt with suggestions and methods of developing proper attitudes in the family unit, within the congregation, and in the community. "One of the finest suggestions," said Mr. Beauchamp "was that each family should have a 'no T.V.' night and spend the evening in family association so that parents and children can get closer together."

Alberta Circuit 3 of Jehovah's Witnesses takes in 17 congregations from Edmonton West to Jasper.

Lately, the ancient Maya are among those whose origins have been attributed to beings from outer space. This belief stems partly from the curious notion that people of the remote past were simply incapable of moving large stones or having a complex society, religion, or art, reports the National Geographic Society's new book, "The Mysterious Maya."

As more and more colonists settled the New World, Europe was forced to pay or barter for what it once simply seized: The annual summer trade fair at Portobelo on Panama's Caribbean coast transformed a normally quiet village into a brawling center of newfound wealth, a sort of 17-century Klondike. National Geographic says.

Concerning Women Of Today's World

Women want access to policy

"Love Is Not Enough" is the message Alberta women have given provincial legislators for Valentine's Day.

The message has been sent in a traditional card -- printed in red and white, embossed with a Cupid, and conveying "Happy Valentine's Day" wishes. It contains a request to MLAs from the Alberta Status of Women Action Committee: Give us a citizen's advisory council on the status of women.

The request reiterates a recommendation put before the Alberta government in October, 1976, in ASWAC's "Joint Initiatives" brief. The brief asks for several government structures to help women achieve equality in this province.

Advisory councils have been appointed by provincial governments across Canada, as well as by the federal government. Alberta has yet to form one.

As the ASWAC brief explains:

"The problem we face presently in Alberta is the complete absence of any authoritative voice recognized by government as speaking on behalf of women. It is ironic that the women of Alberta have a greater official voice at the federal level than they do within their own elected Legislative Assembly -- at least there are two provincial representatives on the federal Advisory Council on the Status of Women."

The council would give Alberta women official access to government policy makers, as well as allow sharing of ideas and solutions with other jurisdictions in Canada and abroad.

In today's fast moving society it seems that housing costs are moving up faster than ever before. There is help though. Government programs are available to aid tenants, buyers of new homes and for those renovating their present home.

TENANTS

The Alberta Rent De-Control program was created to protect renters. Yearly rent increase are held to 8% for 1978 and 1979, unless landlord's costs warrant greater increases.

The Provincial Government also offers a rent subsidy on 4,000 houses throughout Alberta. Families, under this program, must have lived in Alberta at least six (6) months and earn a gross annual income less than $10,000. Rents are set at 30% of gross income, regardless of a home's market value.

Senior citizens have two alternatives. Self-contained housing, allocated according to need, rents from $90 a month to 30% of gross income. Senior citizen lodge accommodation rents for $157.30 a month (single occupancy) and $139.15 (double) which includes meals and laundry. (Will rise 10% April 1, 1978).

Ownership Program, (SHOP) for first-time purchasers of new homes, offers a cheaper mortgage (9% currently) to those qualifying. Lower income applicants also receive subsidies from $28 - $1,560 a year.

The Federal Assisted Home Ownership Program (SHOP) is available to any family buying a modestly-priced new home. Two benefits are provided. A five year interest free loan offsets mortgage payments, lowering the true rate of interest to 8% in the first year of the mortgage. Families with children whose mortgage and tax payments claim at least one-quarter of gross income, receive an additional subsidy up to $750 in the first year of ownership. The loan and subsidy fall by 20% in each following year.

The Provincial direct lending program (DLP) aids buyers of new or used homes. DLP specifies an income limit and extends mortgages at rates from 7 1/4% to 9%, this charge rising with income.

Great ways with leftovers

Leftover roast beef is not only a money-saver but also a time-saver. Instead of looking on leftovers as distasteful, use them to create delicious meals in just minutes.

The working housewife will especially find this leftover roast beef a great help in her menu-planning. Most leftover recipes are easy to prepare and take only a few minutes. By creating new dishes with these leftovers, the food doesn't taste reheated but rather like a brand new dish. In fact, wise shoppers often buy larger roasts than necessary so that they can take greater advantage of specials. Larger roasts also tend to cook better with less shrinkage.

Don't overcook the roast. The leftovers are tastier if the beef has only been cooked to the rare or medium stage. If you prefer your meat well done for the first meal, carve slices from both ends and save the middle for leftovers.

With the following recipes, you'll find leftovers can be just as good as the original meal and will save you time and money as well.

Overseas calls can be dialed direct

Albertans will be able to direct dial their overseas calls in 1979 when AGT introduces the new telephone service in Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and Vegreville Regions.

The service, called Direct Dialling Overseas (DDO), will be available initially between Alberta and 24 nations: United Kingdom, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Netherlands, Greece, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Eire, Israel, Austria, Luxembourg, South Africa, Hong Kong, Japan, Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Venezuela. Calling these nations direct requires dialling between 12 - 15 numbers.

DDO is identical to DDD and Zero-Plus Number Dialling services, except for the access codes. To dial direct, the access code for a DDO call is 011. The other access code is 01 to place a DDO call which requires operator assistance, such as collect, person-to-person, third number billing or credit card calls. Overseas calls will also include the numbers of telephone codes for countries, which are assigned by the International Telephone and Telegraph Consultative Committee (CCITT), a permanent committee of the International Telecommunications Union (ITU), an organization based in Geneva. Canada's country code is 1.

Direct overseas service will be implemented by each of the TransCanada Telephone System member companies according to their individual long-range plans. AGT studies and forecasts of the volume of international calls indicate DDO service, a project costing $3 - $4 million, will be economically feasible in Alberta in 1979. DDO facilities will help operators cope with the expected increase in calls in two years' time. Last year operators placed over 600,000 calls overseas for Albertans.

AGT plans to expand DDO service provincewide in the 1980's.

and Karen Newstead

The cold weather of the past two weeks didn't stop the fun and excitement of our winter carnival. Frozen feet were soon warmed after the exciting ending of each day. The participation was tremendous despite the icy cold weather.

On Monday the 6th we all went outdoors to cheer on our teachers. Of course, the weather was beautiful. The next day was the exact opposite, as the wind howled around the poor grade sevens. The afternoon was no better for the grade eights. Wednesday was a disaster as the grade nines had to trapse through newly falling snow that made the ice impossible for our game of broomball - ice soccer.

On Wednesday afternoon we had the awards ceremony and the awards were presented to the following students:

- (1) Leonard Newby: art master piece
- (2) Kathy Anderson: creative writing
- (3) Corrine Ryerse and Shauna Johnson: puzzles
- (4) Simon Orrell: limmerick

- (5) Brent Bennett: short story, entitled: A Christmas To Remember
- (6) Roberta Rogers: poem, A Cabin in Winter.

Michael Greany, Brenda Troughton and Leslie Clavey received honourable mentions. The Keyano Bear went to Holly Zdrill.

Each and every house worked for the following scores: Henday 6361; Fraser 6320; Thompson 6079; Hearne 5901.

Wednesday's ceremonies ended with the crowning of our 1978 king and queen. Congratulations go to Tracy Jo Sullivan and Phil Kite. A special thank you to Mr. J. Arnot, Mr. D. Thomas, Ms. W. Muir, Mr. J. Curilla, Mr. E. Wynchuk, Mr. R. Prather, Mr. L. Dick, Mr. J. Demko and Mr. S. White. Also a very special thank you to Cable T.V. for weathering out our 8th annual winter carnival.

WINNING LIMMERICK

There once was a man made of snow
Who continued to grow and to grow
But he sat by a fire
And began to perspire
He's much smaller now don't you know.

WINNING POEM THE CABIN IN WINTER

The ground is barren,
The plants wilt and the pond freezes over.

A lone cabin stands out against the gray sky,
Fall is ending.

The snow flurries fall.
The trees become touched with furry-white frost.
A cabin's lights go out as it is abandoned,
Winter is beginning.

The snow drifts over the ground.
The trees bend under the wind's bitter cold force.
A window pane shatters as a shutter clatters against it.
Winter is progressing.

The water drops trickle down to the ground.
The chinook sends balmy warm draughts over the land.
A door creaks on its rusted hinges,
Winter is ending.

The sun shines warmly.
The flower buds begin to grow, trees begin to blossom.
A stranger returns to his cabin,
Spring is beginning.

Voice of V.J. Maloney

By Cheryl Cariou and Heather Smith

February 14 is Valentine's Day and in our school we celebrated it with the "King of Hearts" Day. The Students' Union handed out "red paper hearts" to all the girls in school, including lady teachers and secretaries. Some of the stunts are rolling peanuts across the gym floor, putting on girls make-up and whatever the crazy things girls think of. This enables the boys to get the girl's hearts. The boy that gets the most hearts is crowned the "King of Hearts."

The carnival was fun for everyone who was involved. Toboggan racing was a grade 9 category. 9F won. It wasn't too successful in grade 8. Snowshoeing was also a good event. The grade 8 winners were: Girls - Louise Dollivoet and Shirley McKenzie, Boys - Mike Tessier; Grade 8 winners were: Girls - Leah Gramlich, Boys - Kevin Perrott. Tug-o-war was real yank, ha! ha! Class winners were grade 8H and grade 9F. Water boiling was a real splash. Winners were 9G and 8H. Other events such as score, ball hockey and show-down were held at the arena.

The outdoor education trip was successful. The group of students and supervisors left V.J.M. at 5 a.m. They arrived at Marmot Basin at 11 a.m. The weather and conditions were excellent. All lifts were open so the advanced skiers could try their ability against the hill. They finished skiing at 4 p.m. and went to the Jasper Catholic Church for the night. The next day they skied from 10 to 3. They left from Marmot at 3:00 to go home to a nice warm bed.

There was an exciting basketball tournament at Gibbons on February 4. We are proud of our senior girls who defeated Gibbons, Sherwood Park and J. J. Bowlen in the finals. Senior boys also defeated the same boys teams. If you want to see some action from our teams they will be playing in a tournament at Sherwood Park this weekend. Both junior boys and girls teams are preparing and working hard to get ready for league and exhibition games. Added support is given by the cheerleaders who practice every lunch hour so they will be in top form to cheer for the teams.

Lent is also here so we will be raising money for development and peace. Some of the events include talent night and star-va-thon.

But not everything is fun and sports, exams are coming up and everyone will be busy studying.

Bye for now.

Bertha Kennedy School News

Bertha Kennedy school was the site of many "budding" salesmen this week. The entire school participated in a chocolate sale in order to raise funds for a new tire playground and other school equipment.

The students were most enthusiastic as posters and slogans appeared throughout the school. Wednesday and Thursday nights were very busy as these students worked diligently persuading neighbours and friends to purchase a box of chocolate almonds.

On Monday the well-deserved winners were declared:

Grade 1 - 3 top salesman: Candace Herle; Grade 1 - 3 top class: Grade 3; Grade 4 - 7 top salesman: Tammy Burry; Grade 4 - 7 top class: Grade 6.

The top salesmen won $15 each while the top selling classes won a swim in the new Commonwealth Pool.

Congratulations to all students who helped make our chocolate sale a great success. A very special thank you to all those who made a purchase -- your support is encouraging and much appreciated.

Home of the Week

ENTRY COURT COMPACT HOME
Plan No. P5-3-187

Featured as the "plan of the week" is this U-shape, non-basement, three bedroom home.

The entry court leads to the double-door entry, shown flanked by full-length coloured glass. There's a guest closet handy to the entrance, and an immediate view of the living room and its wood burning fireplace. Large windows on either side of the fireplace make this a good design for the lot with a view.

The family room, kitchen and utility area combines compact design with privacy. The intimate dining room, with its large window overlooking the entry court, can be closed off from the rest of the house. There's a service counter to the kitchen easily closed off with louvered bi-fold doors.

Just a few steps off the kitchen is the laundry area, which can be closed off when required. The family room like the utility is just steps from the kitchen, and features sliding glass doors to an outdoor patio, which is ideal for a summer eating area, with Bar-B-Q, and outdoor furniture.

With three bedrooms, the bedroom wing is well designed for family comfort. The master bedroom has a three piece shower ensuite, and a walk-in closet. Vaulted ceilings with the under-eave glass, and a large picture window overlooking the entry court, make the master bedroom quite luxurious. The other two bedrooms, each with ample closet space, and a large window share a three piece bath.

Off the inner hall, across from the main bathroom, is the furnace room, with a large storage area, which adds to the already ample closet space located off the main hallway.

The exterior shown combines fieldstone, glass and natural wood siding to create contemporary design, ideal for the growing family. There's luxury too, with the double garage, to keep vehicles secure yet convenient. There's room to build in shelving along the end wall or sides of the garage to add extra storage.

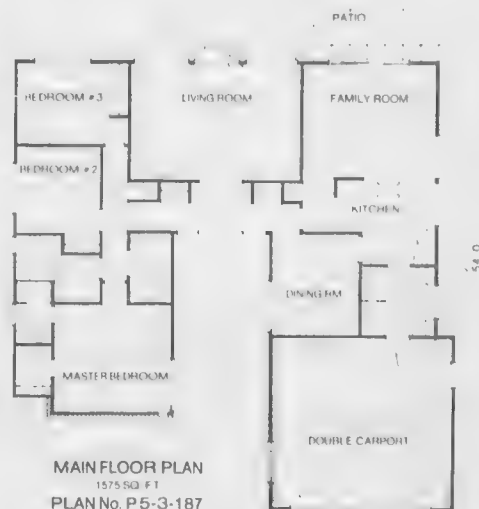

For a cost saving at the construction stage, leave the garage unfinished, and complete it yourself later. The new metric standard sizes for plywood sheets, drywall, waferboard and other panel products will be 1200 mm by 2400 mm (the old 4 by 8 sheets). The size of 2400 mm is about 1 1/4 inches shorter than eight feet, and 1200 mm is about 3/4 of an inch narrower than four feet. You can cover the height difference with baseboard, and the width simply with extra panneling if you are using the metric sizes in a conventional room.

No matter what building options you may choose, this three bedroom home will provide a great environment for the growing family.

Plans for design No. P5-3-187 may be obtained at a cost of $78 for a set of three and $9 for each additional set. Allow $2 to cover postage and handling.

To view more than 100 well designed quality homes of every type, send for the current publication of Home Plans, Western Edition, available for $2.25 ($2 plus 25¢ postage and handling). Make cheques and money orders payable to Plan of the Week, and mail to: Plan of the Week c/o St. Albert and Sturgeon Gazette, 324 Columbia Street, New Westminster, B.C. V3L 1A6.

Spaghetti was introduced to Europe by Marco Polo at the end of the 13th century in the form of the Chinese noodle. Yet the all-important ingredient of spaghetti sauce—the tomato—failed to arrive from the New World until two centuries later, National Geographic says.

Saints retain first place despite loss to Fort

By Larry Mitchell

Fort Saskatchewan Traders halted the Junior Saints win streak at five games Sunday night at the Fort as they handed the St. Albert club a 6-2 loss.

The win for the Fort was their fourth straight and moved them into a tie for second place in the seven-team Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League with Calgary Canucks.

Both teams have 62 points, three behind the Saints and nine ahead of fourth place Edmonton Crusaders.

Calgary had a rough road trip this weekend as they lost 7-4 Friday night at the Fort and 3-2 in a game in St.

Albert on Saturday before winning 2-1 Sunday afternoon over the Crusaders. Canucks have now only one game in hand over St. Albert and two in hand over the Fort.

roll over and, as has so often happened this year, they came on in the third and scored five unanswered goals to win 6-5. It was St. Albert's eighth win in nine games with the Rustlers.

Three of the five Saints goals came as a result of the powerplay which made Coach Doug Messier happy.

They have not been getting many with the man-advantage in the last few games.

Scoring in order for St. Albert were Jim Cross, Rick Hendricks, Mark Messier, Mike Moskaluk, Darrell Morrow and Dean Dachyshyn with the winner at 18:36.

VOLCAN SCORES WINNER

Saturday night in St. Albert a crowd of about 500 were treated to some excellent junior action as both clubs gave it all they had for the entire 60 minutes with St. Albert coming out on top by a 3-2 score.

Calgary opened the scoring early in the first period with Dave Speer scoring a powerplay goal with Dean Dachyshyn sitting out a high stick call.

St. Albert won their other two games played last week as they travelled to Red Deer Tuesday and came from behind in the third period to win 6-5. They also recorded an exciting 3-2 win over Calgary in St. Albert on Saturday night.

In other weekend action Red Deer came up with a pair of wins as they beat Taber 6-4 Saturday and then won 7-6 in Pincher Creek on Sunday.

With the 60-game schedule getting down to the last 10 games or so for each team, all wins from now on will be very important if a team is to finish in first place.

Calgary and St. Albert have almost identical schedules left as they play all teams twice more with the exception that Calgary has three left with Red Deer.

Fort Saskatchewan has a little better schedule as they play Red Deer three times and one each with Taber and Pincher Creek, plus two each with St. Albert, Calgary and Edmonton.

THIRD PERIOD RALLY

In Red Deer last Tuesday the hometown Rustlers appeared to have it all wrapped up going into the final 20 minutes of play as they held a 5-1 lead and had controlled most of the play.

Saints however failed to

Barons lose to Saskatchewan Wrigley champs

BARONS WIN THRILLER AGAINST SWIFT CURRENT

St. Albert Sportshop Barons Midget AA team won a thrilling come-from-behind victory in their first game of the Western Canada Double "A" midget tournament in Saskatoon. Drawn against the game favorite Swift Current Legionnaires in their opener they fell behind 4 to 1 before finally pulling out a hard earned 7 to 6 victory.

Barons trailed two to one, following the first period. Steve Aldred got the Barons only goal assisted by Dave Kreway. In the second the Barons fell behind by a 4 to 1 count before Scott McIntyre scored from Steve Aldred and Scott Holliday. Brian Shaw blasted in a long shot from Breen Neeser and Chris Stewart to pull them within one. Before the period ended Troy Murray tied the game at 4 to 4 assisted by Aldred and Stewart.

The Barons scored three straight goals before Swift Current could get untracked in the third. Troy Murray got his second of the night from Stewart and Neeser. Shaw made it 6 to 4 when he scored unassisted. Chris Stewart closed out the Barons scoring on a long hard shot from the point, to make it 7 to 4.

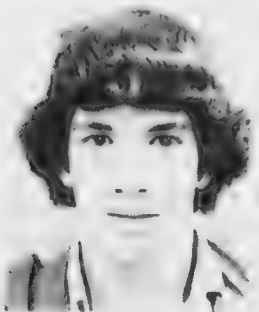

Swift Current never gave up and came charging back to score two more. With 28 seconds remaining the Barons ran out the clock for a very deserving win.

Cam Sebastian started the game in goal with Todd Murray finishing it off. Both goalies allowed three goals. Barons outshot the Swift Current Club by a 54 to 25 count. Defenceman Chris Stewart was awarded the Star of the Game award.

Forward Scott McIntyre, who had an excellent game, took a puck in the fact and suffered a shattered cheek. Please Turn to Page 28

Raiders split games last week

The St. Albert Integrated Building Raiders midgets topped last place Fultonvale 7-3 and lost to first place Vegreville 9-7 in Highway 14 league action last week.

KEITH HEYBURN
Eight Point Week

On Wednesday in the Fultonvale home rink (east of Sherwood Park) the St. Albert squad put on a rather unconvincing display of hockey and were outplayed for parts of the game. Raiders had difficulty finding the net with their erratic shooting out Heyburn with his fourth hat-trick of the season and two each by Lacroix and Tooth provided the margin necessary for the win.

The Raiders hosted first place Vegreville Friday in the St. Albert Arena and had hoped to even their meetings this season at two wins each.

Unfortunately for the Raiders, Vegreville once again arrived ready to play hockey. They jumped quickly into a 4-1 lead before Keith Heyburn and Captain Dave Lacroix scored less than a minute apart to make it close going into the second. Brad Hancock scored earlier in the period.

CLIFF GREENING

The Raiders put up very little fight in the second frame while allowing Vegreville to increase their lead to 7-3 before Turnbull got one back for St. Albert.

The Raiders outpointed the Vegreville team 3-2 in the third period but it was a little too late and they went down 9-7. Hancock with his second of the night, Greening and Antoniuk rounded out the Raider's scoring.

Saints reschedule tonight's game

Tonight's game against the Fort Saskatchewan Traders which was scheduled to be played in the new Akindale Arena unfortunately had to be cancelled as ice is not ready in the new facility.

The game has been rescheduled to February 28 and will become part of the six-game package for the new arena at only $13.50.

Saint's regret any inconveniences the cancellation may have caused but they had no control over it.

Comets have easy week

St. Albert Comets had a very easy week as they came up with three wins without once taking to the ice.

All games were won by default. Two were against the Edmonton Bruins and one against Wetaskiwin - teams which ceased operations early in January.

The three wins boosts the Comets league lead to 29 victories in just 32 starts and they have wrapped up first place.

Comets have four games left in the schedule. All are away from home with games in Fort Saskatchewan (February 14) the following night at Enoch and then in Sherwood Park on the 19th and their final scheduled game on the 26th.

Comets clinched first place when Sherwood Park Barons were beaten by Enoch 6-5 Thursday night.

During the quiet weekend the Comets travelled to Hinton for a pair of exhibition games Friday and Saturday. They tied 2-2 Friday before turning on the jets Saturday for a 7-1 victory.

The game sheet for Friday's game was misplaced and the scorers were not known.

Saturday night Perry Pearn and Larry Stewart paced the Comets with two goals each while singles went to Matt Lister, Murray McLaren and Bob Beaulieu.

Comets will open their two game total goal provincial intermediate A series with Calgary Trojans in Calgary on March 4 and the second game will be in St. Albert the following Saturday, March 11th.

The winner of this series will meet the winner of Sherwood Park Barons and Red Deer Border Pavers. The services is currently led by the Barons who won Saturday in Red Deer.

Action around the Calgary Canucks goal can be a bit frustrating at times as Canuck goalie Darcy Way searches for a loose puck. St. Albert Junior Saints, Dean Dachyshyn, is doing his best to screen the shot and take out an unidentified Calgary player. Saints won the game 3-2 and are now three points up on Calgary and Fort Saskatchewan Traders in the Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League.

Dave Dryden lost an opportunity to shutout the Birmingham Bulls two games straight last night. Peter Marrin's (#20) goal off an Oiler's leg during a scramble at 4:38 of the third broke a long Bull's scoring drought. Tony Cassolato (#24) assisted on the play. Oilers won the game 4-1. Oilers are now in third place - one point ahead of Houston and six points up on Quebec who come to the Coliseum Friday.

Mini basketballers enjoy Globe Trotters

On Saturday, February 11 in excess of 300 St. Albert parents, friends and K of C Mini Basketball players attended and enjoyed a very entertaining basketball game between the California Chiefs and the 'Clowns of the Court' the Harlem Globetrotters.

Everyone enjoyed the antics of "Geese" Ausbie, the dribbling expertise displayed by Marques Haines, the reach of seven foot Gerald Smith, and the play of 'Cochise' Brown and 'Wolfman' Lee.

This was another highlight in the basketball world of these 8-12 year old players. The halfway point in their own schedule has just been passed and the teams on the whole continue to display improving basketball skills, sportsmanship and fairplay.

Unfortunately, as in most organized sports, some coaches and parents have a tendency to lose focus on the objectives of the game and develop a win at all costs attitude.

The balance of the schedule will serve as a tune-up for the big tournament scheduled for March 18 weekend. There could be a surprise attraction to finish the activities at the end of the tournament.

Anyone interested in seeing some very interesting and entertaining basketball is invited to come out to any gym between the hours of 9-11 p.m., every Saturday morning.

JR. SAINTS HOCKEY ACTION

With 10 games left on the schedule, Saints have a three point lead over both Calgary Canucks and Fort Saskatchewan Traders who are tied for second place in the seven team Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League.

St. Albert at one time last week were up five points on Calgary but a 6-2 loss to the Fort, Sunday and the Canucks 2-1 win Sunday over Edmonton, reduced their margin.

Saints have played one more game than Calgary and have a game in hand on Fort Saskatchewan.

St. Albert has 11 games left to play with two games against each team except Red Deer who they play once.

Calgary has two games against every league team except Red Deer, where they have one.

Fort Saskatchewan have two games against Saints, Calgary, Pincher Creek, three with Red Deer and one with Taber.

Edmonton Crusaders have slipped in the past few weeks and are all most out of reach of first place.

Playoff pairings will see the first place finishers playing the sixth place team, second playing fifth and third playing fourth. All are a best of seven series. The winners then play a modified double knockout series with the two winners meeting in the finals.

REMEMBER ... "For the best in Junior hockey" follow the Saints and "For the Best in Moving" go the Western Moving Way.

for that as he scored a beautiful shorthanded goal with team-mate Mike Moskaluk off for high sticking.

St. Albert scored the only goal of the second period when Darrell Morrow connected on the powerplay with assists going to Dachyshyn and Mark Messier.

Saints went ahead 3-1 midway through the final period with Mickey Volcan scoring from Keith Hertz and Messier.

Calgary's final goal came at 10:47. It not only was a two-line pass but it was also offside as well. All three officials somehow failed to see this one.

Pierre Lamoureux had an excellent game in goal for the Saints coming up with the big save many times.

Referee Dennis Fontyne had a fairly calm night as he only assessed nine minor penalties with St. Albert taking five.

Sunday night at the Fort it was referee Ory Mandryk "Night" as he put on a great show for the Traders fans but unfortunately his officiating left a lot to be desired by both coaches.

I suppose most will say its sour grapes because we lost but, really, the Saints didn't have a chance in the game with the type of officiating we got from Mandryk who, incidentally, is the A.J.H.L. referee-in-chief. How he ever got in that position is beyond me but at least in that capacity he is not officiating too many games.

The first goal scored by the Fort in the first period did not go in. It hit the goal-post.

The goal judge put the red light on and his explanation of the goal was that it trickled over the line and then rolled back out. That's a little hard to swallow but Mandryk the Magician did.

Grant Morin was on top of goalie Ken Bales inside the crease on the Fort's second goal which was also argued by the Saints but the argument fell on deaf ears.

Another questionable call came at the end of the first period with Saints Mark Messier getting a misconduct for being intimidated by Trader Sheldon Currie who instigated the affair.

In the past month and a half the Saints have played 14 games with an average of only seven penalties per game which isn't bad for rugged junior hockey.

Mandryk saw fit to hand out 25 penalties with the Saints picking up 14 to the Traders 11. In the third period a number of infractions by both teams were not called when they should have been had the referee been in control of the game. There is no question Mandryk certainly appears to be on an ego trip and should not be called upon to do anymore important games as he cannot control them.

I know a number of officials who will read this and be upset with me, but when officials such as Mandryk are being paid very good money to referee then they should also be open to criticism when they do a lousy job. The player certainly gets hell from the coach and fans when he performs badly so why not the referee?

Getting back to the game, Fort Saskatchewan scored three third period goals to win 6-2.

Bernie Joyal put St. Albert ahead 1-0 at the three minute mark of the first with a backhander that Clint Malarchuk had no chance on. Morin scored a pair of goals midway into the period and the Fort led 2-1 going into the second period.

The clubs split a pair of goals in the second with Greg Skoreyko scoring for the Traders and Dachyshyn replying for the Saints. The Fort wrapped it up in the final period with goals by Marty Achymichuk, Terry Ewasiuk and Morin with his third of the night.

Both clubs scored a goal each on the powerplay. The Fort outshot the Saints 34-32.

Saints take to the road for their final trip of the regular season with games in Calgary Friday night, Saturday in Taber and Pincher Creek on Sunday afternoon.

St. Albert Canadians: heartbreaker at Vernon Peewee tourney

St. Albert's Nu-West Canadians were 11-seconds from a berth in the finals of the A section in the prestigious Vernon winter carnival annual peewee hockey tournament, last week.

In the dying moments of the most exciting game of the tourney the hometown Vernon club pulled its goalie against an already short-handed St. Albert team and stunned their Alberta visitors by tying it up, then winning 3-2 in overtime.

St. Albert began the event last Thursday with a convincing win over league rivals Red Deer Comets, 7-2. Red Deer then went on to win the B division, dumping Swift Current 6-2 in the final. In the opener, St. Albert goals came from Darryn Ernest (3), Tony Rouault, Erin Oor, Craig Iseke, and Tim Sebastian. Assists were from Sebastian (2), John Lenz (2), Rouault, Ernest and Iseke.

The next day, Canadians managed only a lukewarm performance against Vernon, whom they met twice in the tournament, but kept close until, with three minutes left, Vernon opened a 3-1 lead, then scored again with two seconds remaining. St. Albert's goal was by Tim Sebastian, assisted by Craig Iseke.

St. Albert kept alive in the

A division on Saturday with a dazzling display of hockey against a determined club from Grande Prairie.

In the first period, Canadians scored three times early but saw Grande Prairie reply twice, then tie it early in the second. However, led by a marvellous performance from Tim Sebastian, solid defensive work by Tony Baler and Cameron White, and great goaltending by Chris Lane, Canadians proceeded to score four unanswered goals to end up 7-3, despite being outshot 41-37. Scoring for St. Albert were Sebastian (4), Mike Lacroix, John Lenz, and Darryn Ernest; assisting were Erin Oor (2), Sebastian (2), Lenz, Ernest, and Tony Baler.

The Sunday morning heartbreaker was St. Albert's last chance to make the finals. With winger Lacroix sidelined by a knee-cap injury, and five others hurting badly, Canadians went out against the hometowners as underdogs, but when they ended the second period at 1-1, they had captured support throughout the Vernon Arena.

With outstanding goaltending by Paul Burgess and excellent checking by Tony Baler on defense, St. Albert kept even in play in the third until Darryn Ernest threw the crowd into an uproar by beating a Vernon defenseman to a loose puck in their end and blasting it in from a sharp angle. St. Albert's hopes for a finals slot were high but were dashed when Vernon slid in the tie-maker, then scored their overtime powerplay winner.

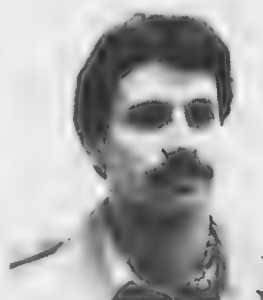

The first St. Albert goal was by Willy Plageman, assisted by Brian Chai and Gordon Gramlich. This "little line" of the Canadians had a great series, efficiently checking some very tough opposition. Ernest's goal was assisted by Tim Sebastian. These two were St. Albert's most effective scoring punch. Throughout the tournament, all Canadians had their moments of glory, and earned the admiration of observers, including the well known Babe Pratt.

Other teams in the tourney were from Sacramento, Saa-nich, Swift Current, Grande Prairie, Red Deer and Vancouver. The latter, represented by the North Shore Winter Club was a superbly coached and trained team.

They met Vernon in the A final.

Coach John Sebastian and Manager Lionel Rouault were very pleased with St. Albert's showing. A number of parents made the trip and established strong but friendly rivalries with supporters of other teams.

Mercier on Fitness

EXERCISE AND SLEEP:

by Richard P. Mercier
Recreation Program
Supervisor.

The more difficult your daily physical load, the more sleep you need, right? Not necessarily so. Intense physical stress from unaccustomed exhaustive exercise will disturb the homeostatic balance of the system and inhibit sleep, but regular exercise that leaves one comfortably tired facilitates a good night's sleep.

Some people will even claim that they do not require as much sleep when they are in good physical condition. They state that they sleep much sounder and deeper, fall asleep sooner and awake earlier feeling more revitalized.

Sleep is facilitated by relaxation, relaxation is largely a muscular phenomenon, and exercised muscles relax more readily.

Too much sleep may be almost as bad as not enough. Granted, some people require more sleep than others, the most obvious being those that are very young and those that have passed middle age. Bed rest has a deconditioning effect after the hours that are needed have passed. All body processes slow down. After six hours (in the average adult) the heart beat gets down to its basal rate (minimum required to maintain circulation). The metabolism lowers. Circulation becomes sluggish. The muscles become flaccid. The whole body begins to lose its tone. It has been calculated that a person who's been inactive for three days has lost 5% of his strength. Remaining in bed for half a day diminishes the amount of time you can be active; thus the longer you remain in bed beyond a maximum of nine hours (for the average adult) the weaker you become.

Now all that sounds a bit harsh, as you know when you get that extra few hours of sleep on the weekend or whenever, you feel better. Well if you think you feel better, you do! So what the heck if you feel you need more rest, get it, after all it's your own mind which you must satisfy. But if that mind realizes that the body it is attached to requires a certain amount of rest and that physical exercise will produce a more relaxed state, it will not be satisfied without it.

To your Health!

Oilers blank Bulls

Edmonton Oilers led by the brilliant goaltending of Dave Dryden shut out Birmingham Bulls 7-0 Sunday evening at the Coliseum. Dryden came up with a number of excellent saves in the 34 shots that he handled and recorded his second shut-out of the year. His other goal-free night was against league leading New England Whalers on January 18th.

The win for the Oilers moved them to within one point of third place Houston Aeros who split their weekend games losing 6-5 to the Jets Sunday after defeating Quebec 8-4 Saturday.

Seven Oilers hit the score sheet as Joe Micheletti and Blair MacDonald scored in the first period, Juha Widing and Ron Chipperfield in the second and Gerry Holland, Mike Zuke and Norm Ferguson in the third.

Oilers will be in Winnipeg tonight in their only away game of the month. They play their next five at home in February and the first two in March.

Quebec will be here Friday night and Indianapolis Racers on Sunday. Houston will be here for games on the 22nd and 24th.

Ron Chipperfield is the only Oiler in the top 10. He is tied with Rickie Leduc at 58 points apiece in 10th place

Bulls netminder John Garrett had a rough night at the Coliseum Sunday as Oilers tired seven past him in a 7-0 win. Juha Widing (11), who did not score on this play, watches as the puck gets by Garrett from a blast by Ron Chipperfield. Widing also scored later in the game.

Sturgeon Valley Senior Hockey

Play in the Sturgeon Valley Senior Hockey League is down to the last week of the schedule with the final games scheduled for this Sunday.

Most teams have two or three left and the outcome of these will determine who will end up in the playoffs.

The west division is currently being led by Morinville with 43 points in 28 games while Calahoo have 42 points with 27 games played.

Morinville has games with Bon Accord and Onoway while Calahoo has two with Alexander and one with Riviere Qui Barre.

The race in the eastern division is just as close as Gibbons and Legal and are both tied with 35 points although Legal has played 28 games to Gibbons 27.

Bon Accord is in third with 31 points and are not out of it yet as they have four games left.

Leo Provincial of Legal will win the league scoring championship as he has well over 100 points and leads brother Peter by at least 20.

Only two league teams entered provincials this year with Calahoo in Draw "B" while Gibbons will play Edmonton Eagles in Draw "D". Good luck to both teams.

BARONS PULL OFF IMPOSSIBLE IN SEMI-FINAL

Faced with only one line change following their close 7 to 6 victory over Swift Current, the St. Albert Sportshop Barons went against the tough Saskatoon Contacts. The Barons were playing their second game of the day, and were down to 13 players.

They skated with the Saskatoon club for the first period and ended up with a scoreless tie. Todd Murray blocked 19 shots directed his way compared to his teammates nine on the Saskatoon net. To everyone's surprise, St. Albert took a 2 to 0 lead midway through the second period on goals by Steve Aldred (unassisted) and Pat Poulin (assisted by Garnet Clark).

With the Barons already down to 13 players, defence-man Garnet Clark took a puck above the eye and was taken to the arena clinic and patched up. Before the second period ended the hometown Saskatoon club had tied the score with two fast goals.

Both teams played close checking hockey for 15 minutes of the third period with Barons goaler Todd Murray coming up with numerous saves to keep the tiring St. Albert squad even. High scoring Brian Shaw blasted in a long shot to give the Barons a 3 to 2 lead with less than five minutes remaining. Their lead was shortlived as 40 seconds later the Saskatoon squad scored. Barons coach, Jeff Armstrong, called for a stick measurement and the call paid off as the Saskatoon player was assessed a two minute minor.

The tension built to a high pitch as the Barons pressured with the man-advantage but they couldn't beat the Saskatoon netminder. With only 1:36 left in the game right winger Pat Poulin took a pass from Kreway and Clark and drilled a perfect long low shot past the Saskatoon goalie for the winner. Saskatchewan pulled their goalie trying desperately to pull the game into overtime. Centre Breen Neeser finished off a tremendous team effort by an understaffed St. Albert crew when he scored two empty net goals in the last minute.

Pat Poulin was selected #1 Star for his two goal effort including the winner. The win put St. Albert into the finals.

BARONS LOSE FINAL

The powerful Regina Pat Canadian's defending Western Canada Tournament Champs scored six goals in the second period enroute to a convincing 12 to 4 win over a tired and understaffed Sportshop Barons hockey club.

Barons were leading 2 to 1 after one period on goals by Brian Shaw (from Chris Stewart) and Scott Holliday (from Pat Quaghebeur). Barons outshot the Regina club 13 to 7.

In the second period the big Regina club wore down the Barons and scored six goals, to the Barons' two. Brian Shaw connected for his second of the night from Breen Neeser and Mike Taschereau scored from Neeser. Regina led 7 to 4 after 40 minutes of play.

GARNET CLARK

The third period saw Regina score five unanswered goals to salt the championship away. Scott McIntyre, who had an operation on his cheek only hours before, was equipped with a special mask and played a regular shift.

Chris Stewart, Steve Aldred and Mike Taschereau played despite injuries. The Barons gave an excellent showing in a top calibre midget tournament. Following the tournament the Barons received a special invitation to the Swift Current tournament in April.

Most outstanding player award for the Barons in the championship game was centre Breen Neeser.

The Barons received a major award for the tournament when Garnet Clark was picked up as the top defenceman. Congratulations to all the Barons and the coaching staff for an excellent showing.

The Barons next home game is this Friday against Sherwood Park at 7:30 p.m.

Scorpion win opens provincials

Calahoo Scorpions paced by the line of John Kokotilo. Bob Wallis and Jay McGeough took a one goal lead into tonight's game with the Edmonton Cougars as a result of a 6-5 win Monday night in Calahoo.

The two-game total-goal series in "B" event of the Alberta intermediate provincials was close from start to finish with the score tied 1-1 at the end of the first period and 3-3 at the end of two. Scorpions scored the extra marker in the third to take the win.

Bob Wallis scored the Scorpions only goal of the first with Kokotilo assisting while Ken Berine replied for the Cougars.

In the second it was Ian Langridge from Dave Grice to put Calahoo ahead 2-1 and Greg Cust from Terry Bauman put the Scorpions ahead 3-1.

Cougars came back with a pair late in the period as Wayne Johnson and Leo Pilon scored.

Cougars took a 4-3 lead on a goal by Jim McDonald but the Scorpions came back with Kokotilo scoring from Wallis and McGeough.

McDonald scored his second of the night to put Cougars back in front shortly after, but goals by Wallis and Kokotilo gave Calahoo a 6-5 win.

The second game to be played tonight will also be held in Calahoo. The winner of this series will advance to a two-game total-goal series with Fort McMurray while the loser will play Athabasca.

Sabres scorers finding the mark

The St. Albert Territorial Leasing Sabres had no trouble blinking the red light in two games on the weekend.

On Saturday in the St. Albert Arena, Vegreville was victimized by the Sabres in a 10-4 in the first game of league playoffs. D. Clark, G. Miller and J. Swist picked up two goals apiece. Singles went to M. Poulin (who also had three assists), B. Hammett, P. Kelly and D. White.

The Sabres outscored Vegreville 5-1 in the third period enroute to the win. Chris Donnelly was between the pipes for the game.

On Thursday the Sabres fell completely apart in the third allowing Ardrossan six goals to St. Albert's one. The result was a 9-4 loss in the last regular season league game.

Sabre scoring in the game was shared by D. White, B. Weller, B. Malanchen and M. Poulin. Ardrossan outshot the Sabres 41-21. Both J. Sexsmith and C. Donnelly played goal for St. Albert.

SABRES HOST CALGARY

This weekend saw the Territorial Leasing Sabres host the Calgary Southwood team.

After the Calgary boys had met their billets Saturday morning and were treated to lunch, they left to play a St. Albert all-star house league team in Calahoo. The game was close and the score wound up 5-4 for Calgary.

The Calgary boys came back in time to see their host team - the Sabres - play Vegreville. Both teams were presented with complimentary tickets to watch the Calgary Canucks go up against the Saints.

It was a highly entertaining game as both teams put on a fine display of hockey with the Saints winning 3-2. Sunday morning saw the boys go against one another in Calahoo at 9 a.m. The first period ended 4-3 for the Sabres with both teams flying.

The Sabres seemed to find the range in the second potting five goals to Calgary's one to take a commanding 9-4 lead. The third period was closer as Calgary held the Sabres to three goals and got one themselves to make the final score 12-5.

Goaltending duties were split between J. Sexsmith and C. Donnelly for the Sabres.

Womens hockey workshop held

Sixteen delegates were in attendance from across Canada at the Women's Hockey Workshop held in Ottawa in October 1977.

The workshop was endorsed by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and Mr. Frank McKinnon, Vice-President of the C.A.H.A., was chairman.

The delegates were given the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas, to identify major problem areas and to develop a plan of action for the future of Women's Hockey.

The Philosophy Statement which resulted from the workshop reads: "We believe that every woman should have the opportunity to participate in the game of Hockey. It is our aim to promote a healthy, competitive environment which will be safe and will provide opportunities for women's personal challenge and achievement, exercise and fitness, social interaction, and character development, while maintaining the spirit of fun.

At the same time, we intend to promote excellence in all aspects of hockey by developing the sport so that it will provide a challenge to all participants."

A Working Committee for the Development of Women's Hockey in Canada was set up with the guidance of Dennis McDonald, Technical Director of C.A.H.A., with a representation of two delegates from the Atlantic Provinces, one from B.C., one from Alberta, one from Sask., and Manitoba, one from Ontario, and one from Quebec. The delegate from Alberta is Pat Moffitt, 11926 - 36 St. Edmonton, T5W 2B2. 477-7723.

One topic thoroughly discussed as one of the problems in all areas was Public Relations & Publicity. Women's Hockey must be accepted by: Parents and Potential Participants, Facility Administrators, Business, Government and Service Clubs, and the Media. The general feeling of the group was if we can get the approval and acceptance of these groups the promotion of Women's Hockey would be an easy task.

In Alberta, the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association encourages Women's Hockey and have been helpful in the development of the sport. Any information needed is available, registered referees are assigned to games, and the benefits of the Association are there.

The Alberta Games Council has accepted Women's Hockey in the 1978 Winter Games in Medicine Hat. Two Intermediate "A" teams will be competing in a two game total point series. Six Intermediate "B" teams will be competing in a modified double knockout tournament on March 4 & 5 in the Kinplex.

The Provincial Sports Advisor for Women's Hockey is Pat Moffitt and the Medicine Hat Sports Chairman are Christina and Ernie Wouters, 2734 Thompson Crescent S.E. Medicine Hat, T1B 1C4; 526-3395. Audrey Bokor - 1929 - 22 Ave. S. Lethbridge, T1K 1J2, 328 6032, John MacDonald - 85 Dovercliff Close S.E. Calgary, T2B 1W1; 272-7325 are zone sports representatives.

ST. ALBERT ARENAS

Soccer try-outs begin Saturday

Herman Kochan has come out of retirement to once again coach and co-ordinate St. Albert's representative soccer teams.

Any boys who would like to try for the midget team are asked to bring their running shoes and gym gear to a workout at the Rosslyn Junior High gym (132 Avenue and 113 Street) Saturday morning (February 18) at 10. The session will run until noon.

Other age groups (bantam and peewee) will also have tryouts as soon as gymnasium time becomes available.

Watch the Gazette for times and dates.

Anyone new to St. Albert and those wishing further information may contact Herman at 459-8233.

The dog team on the right wasn't about to give up the race just because their musher couldn't make the entire trip. Unfortunately the rules say both rider and dogs must cross the finish line.

Peewee Saints win and lose big

The RMC Sport Centre Saints continue in their two year campaign to develop top quality peewee division representatives by playing two games on the weekend.

The results illustrate some of the problems faced by the organizers in picking competition in their exhibition schedule. On Saturday St. Michaels peewees of the K of C league came to the St. Albert Arena and the Saints overwhelmed them 24-2 outshooting them 82-14.

Todd Ewan led the way with four goals; Scott Rusnak, Todd Kathol, David Findlay, Dean Bosch and Darryl Ethier picked up three each and Fraser Watt and Ron Couture gained singles.

Sunday the Saints travelled to Vegreville to meet the peewee team from the Highway 14 league and in a free wheeling clean game went down 14-7.

The game would have been closer but the Saints had problems getting started in the first two frames and were down 10-3 starting the third period. They skated hard and scored four goals but couldn't keep Vegreville out of their end zone or off the scoreboard. Todd Ewan and Dean

Bosch scored two each with singles by Jimmy Hammett,

Todd Carnelle and Scott Rusnak.

1978 Labatt Challenge Series

The Canadian Automobile Sport Clubs (CASC) recently announced that dates and locations for seven of the 10 races comprising the 1978 Labatt Challenge Series have been finalized, and that the opening event will take place at Long Beach, California. The schedule established to date is: April 1 - Long Beach, California; April 23 - Westwood, B.C.; June 11 - Quebec City, Quebec; July 4 - Lime Rock, Connecticut; July 23 - Elkhart Lake, Wisconsin; August 7 - Hamilton, Ontario; August 13 - Watkins Glen, N.Y.

The opening 100-mile Labatt's race will be part of the Long Beach Grand Prix weekend, staged through the streets of this southern California city on March 31, April 1 and 2, 1978. The Long Beach Grand Prix is the fourth of 16 Formula One races held around the world to determine the World Driving Championship.

"Holding our opening race at Long Beach is a tremendous boost for the series," said R. J. Hanna, executive director of the CASC. "Not only does it afford our many American competitors an opportunity to race in front of a hometown crowd, it will give the drivers and teams a chance to show off the top calibre competition to the Formula One circus and to the international media."

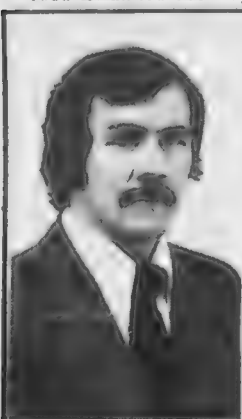

The Labatt Series, for Formula Atlantic cars all powered by the 1600 cc Ford Cosworth BDN engines, is seen as a stepping stone for young drivers to graduate to world championship competition. Because the cars are virtually identical in power and handling, the onus is on the drivers' ability. The 1977 champion, Canadian Gilles Villeneuve, signed with the Ferrari Formula One race team at the end of the past season to replace World Champion Niki Lauda in Grand Prix competition next year.

Chris Pook, president of the Long Beach Grand Prix Association, said: "We are delighted to offer these up and coming drivers opportunity to showcase their skills at this important international event. In the long run, we hope to see more North American drivers competing in Formula One, and I have high hopes that Villeneuve won't be the only Formula Atlantic graduate on the Grand Prix circuit."

In 1978 Labatt Challenge Series, organized by the CASC, will consist of 10 races conducted across Canada and the United States with the American events enjoying the sanction of the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA). Prize money for the series, including contingency sponsorship and points funds, is expected to exceed $600,000.

Six locations in Canada are under consideration for the remaining three races yet to be scheduled.

Sturgeon School Board to relocate central offices

The Board of Trustees of the Sturgeon School Division moved to renovate the former Cunningham School in Morinville and to relocate its central offices to the former school when the renovations are completed early in the fall of 1978. The decision was taken following some months of study at a special meeting held on February 2 to consider the problem of central office space needs.

The need for additional space has become acute as the result of the school system's unprecedented growth from 2500 to 4100 students during 1977. This growth resulted mainly from the opening of the Sturgeon Composite High School and the transfer of Redwater to the system in early September.

The Board considered two alternative proposals, each designed to provide approximately 15,000 square feet of office, warehouse and shop space.

A proposal made by the Municipal District of Sturgeon where the school board offices are presently located would have seen a new addition made to the present M.D. building in Morinville with the building site being provided by the M.D. The proposal also provided that the M.D. would purchase the Cunningham School and its five acre site for $200,000.

The school board would have built the office and warehouse addition at a cost of $678,550 and purchased the present shop from the M.D. at a cost of $52,718. This would have left a net Please Turn To Page 34

Gibbons woman receives guide award

The Alberta Rose Pin, the highest award in the provincial girl guide movement, was awarded Saturday, to a Gibbons woman at a ceremony in St. Albert.

Evelyn Fraser received the pin - awarded less than 10 times in guide history - for long service with the Gibbons organization.

Mrs. Fraser was leader of guides in Gibbons from 1952 to 1972 and is now camp adviser for the Tamarac area, which has about 1,800 members in communities around Edmonton.

Delegates at the area annual meeting also elected Pat Webber of Spruce Grove to a three year term as an executive member of the Tamarac council. Audrey Aylard, from Athabasca, was elected member at large on the 30 person council.

Wreford O'Hara, commissioner for Tamarac area, was honoured for her contribution to the guide organization in the district.

The Alexander Band reserve west of Morinville, was a lively place last weekend with the unofficial opening of a new ice arena. An eight team native hockey tournament took place and from all reports the arena will see plenty of action during the rest of the hockey season.

Redwater gives first reading to traffic bylaw

Following are highlights from the regular council meeting of Redwater, February 7. Mayor A. Konasewich was in the chair with the following councillors present: J. Pernitsky, J. McDougall, T. Whitten, B. Davies, H. Mackenzie and P. Hrynchuk.

TRAFFIC BYLAW 404 was introduced and given first reading. Town administrator Keith Miller described the bylaw as "just a basic traffic bylaw ... most towns in Alberta would have one."

It covers traffic signs, speed limits, and parking, parade routes, snow clearance routes and the like.

THE POLICE COMMISSION has been asked to review traffic and parking problems in Redwater's downtown area and will report back to council at a later date.

BYLAW 403, being a bylaw to change the method of debenture payments was approved by council unanimously after being given third reading.

THE TOWN ADMINISTRATOR and the chairman of the Planning Committee have been authorized to attend a development appeal board seminar in St. Albert March 3.

IT WAS moved that Redwater join the Lakeland Tourist Association for 1978 Please Turn To Page 34

MD Sturgeon receives $198,561.50 grant

Two Provincial recreation grants totalling $198,561.50 were presented to MD Sturgeon last week by MLA Ernie Jamison. A cheque for $188,561.50 will go to the village of Legal to be applied against the construction of the Legal Recplex. The cheque for $10,000 will be forwarded to the RQB Agricultural Society and will be used to purchase land for additional parking at the arena complex. The grants were made through the department of Recreation under the major cultural-recreation facility development program.

Cats 2nd class "citizens" in Bon Accord

Cats will never make it on Bon Accord's dog-bylaw.

At the regular council meeting February 7, council decided it is never going to assume any responsibility for cats which stray in the neighbourhood.

However under the dog bylaw, dogs have to be kept for 48 hours for possible claim by owners before they are destroyed.

There is no such protection for cats in Bon Accord.

But judging from a chat with one village official the council's attitude will be to "tell the homeowners it's their cat, and stay out of it altogether."

The discussion at council arose when a sick cat was caught and kept for one day before being destroyed; too quick a fate for the cat as far as one cat owner was concerned!

Legal gets big $188,561 grant

The Village of Legal recently received a major cultural/recreation facility development grant for $188,561.50.

The grant is to be used to help offset costs associated with the construction of a curling rink and the installation of an artificial ice-plant.

The highway crews were prompt as usual, following last week's "weather warning" conditions which left many people in the M.D. of Sturgeon drifted in. One resident in the Morinville area reported that since last Tuesday he couldn't get home, except by walking half a mile, until Friday, the maintainer had been down the road during that time, but the resident worked late, and by the time he went home at night, the road had blown right back in.

cost of $531,268 to be financed by the M.D. which would debenture the required amount over 25 years with the Sturgeon School Division being responsible for repayment.

Approval would have to be sought from the Minister of Education to sell the Cunningham School to the M.D. A period of 12 to 16 months minimum was estimated for this proposal to be completed. The present M.D. building site now shared by the M.D. and School Board contains slightly more than five acres.

The alternate proposal was to completely renovate the former Cunningham School by providing a new roof, new electrical and mechanical systems (including air conditioning), renovate the interior, refinish the exterior and provide parking facilities and landscaping at an estimated cost of $281,214.

Additionally a new shop would be constructed at an estimated cost of $50,400, bringing the total to be financed over a period of five years to $331,614 - a saving of about $200,000 in principal and $518,000 in interest compared with the M.D. proposal.

A period of six to 10 months is expected to be required to complete this project. The Minister of Education has already indicated approval of the conversion of Cunningham School and approved a major part of the financing required.

On a motion by Trustee Ward the renovation proposal was adopted with Trustees Hole, Hood and Wall in favor and McDowell, Everitt and Persild opposed. The school board administration did not recommend for or against either proposal.

In moving that the M.D. be thanked for submitting their proposal, Trustee Everitt noted that the decision had been made on the grounds of the saving in time and money which would result from converting Cunningham School as well as the retention of ownership by the School Board of the five acre Cunningham site which would guarantee ample space for future expansion needs.

Ward-Taron wedding at Namao January 21

By Norma Crozier

In a lovely candlelight service at Norwood United Church, on Saturday, January 21, 1978, Miss Kathryn Anne Ward, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ward of Namao, was united in marriage to Mr. Garry Taron of Edmonton, eldest son of Mrs. Margaret Markowski and the late Mr. W. Taron of Sunnyside.

The Rev. Harold C. Black of Namao United Church performed the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her gown of polyester quantrelle, trimmed with lace and seed pearls. Her three-quarter length veil was held in place by a matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Attending the bride were her two sisters, Miss Patty Ward, maid of honor; Miss Barbara Ward, and her cousin, Miss Laurel Horricks, as bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of dark green de ball velvet with small matching capes and headpieces. Each carried a bouquet of pale yellow carnations. The bride's and bridesmaids gowns were fashioned by Mrs. Ruby Lowe.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Doug Bradbury, best man; Mr. Dick Coley and Mr. Fred Taron, his brother as groomsmen. They were attired in matching dark brown tuxedos.

During the signing of the register, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Nelsen of Namao sang beautiful duets, "O Perfect Love" and "Sunrise, Sunset."

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother wore a jacket dress of soft green crepe and the groom's mother chose a coral gown. They were both complemented by white corsages.

Ushers for the wedding were Mr. Bradley Ward, brother of the bride and Mr. Ted Taron, brother of the groom.

The reception and dance, attended by about 200 guests was held in the auditorium of Namao School and was catered to by the ladies of Namao School and Community League. Mr. Bud Horricks acted as master of ceremonies for the evening and also proposed the toast to the bride.

Special guests for the

occasion were grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horricks and Mrs. M. B. Ward and grandpar ents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Wiese, all of Edmonton.

Following a trip to Jasper the young couple will make their home in Edmonton.

Namao News

Mrs. Daisy Craig and Mrs. Alma Paul were delegates to the Yellowhead U.C.W. Presbyterial conference held at the Grey Nun Retreat in Edmonton on February 11 and 12. The topic was on Personal Spirit Renewal. It was all very interesting.

The Namao UCW held their monthly meeting on Tuesday, February 14 at Mrs. Alma Paul's with Mrs. Russel Coburn as co-hostess. The delegates from the Yellowhead conference reported on their stay over the weekend.

On Sunday, February 19 at 2:30 p.m., at Alberta College a quartet called Song Spinners with Ron and Diane Nelsen taking part. It is a preview of the opera "Il Trovatore" with duets, trios of the music and also giving explanations of the opera. Everyone is welcome.

Dog officer is doing his job at Gibbons

Gibbons council could find no fault with its dog control officer after scrutiny of the officer's job at the regular council meeting February 8.

The council was investigating complaints that there were a number of dogs running around town and wanted to straighten the matter out.

"Everything just got straightened out, he was doing his job, it (the matter) just dropped," commented Gibbons Mayor Reg Austin.

Mayor Austin told the Gazette that work progresses on the senior citizens lodge at Gibbons, though the official opening date is not expected till May.

Due to the inclement weather, the basketball games scheduled for last week were cancelled, but there will be plenty of basketball action this week.

First of all, the junior basketball teams are going to Bon Accord on Tuesday, February 14. They also have a tournament on Saturday, February 18, at Sturgeon Composite High School.

The Seniors start out the week by playing Legal on Wednesday, February 15, here in Morinville. Both the boys and girls' teams are looking forward to the big two-day tournaments on February 17 and 18. The girls will be going to Drayton Valley for an all-girls tournament, while the boys will be playing at J. H. Picard in Edmonton. This is likely to be their toughest competition during the whole season, so we wish them the best of luck.

Morinville Library News

Two new services obtainable through the local library will be introduced this year, starting in April.

One is the "Alberta Library services to the Handicapped" funded by Alberta Culture for an initial three year term. The other is the Multi-lingual Biblio-service. This latter service operates out of the Edmonton public library and gets books in non-official languages from the national library, Ottawa. Twenty-three languages are offered, these include: Arabic, Chinese, Hindi, Punjabi, Hungarian, Ukrainian, Spanish and German just to mention a few. Later a catalogue will be prepared which will include books in French and all the non-official languages.

The services to the handicapped will consider blindness, visual handicap, physical handicap and perceptual handicap. An eligible person must be certified by a competent authority, such as a doctor, optometrist or case worker.

The service to the handicapped include the purchase of large print books; the purchase of talking books recorded on cassette and to distribute and circulate the talking books to public libraries and to individuals who cannot go to the library; the provision of consultative services.

The Alberta Library Service to the Handicapped is supervised by the Calgary public library board.

To use the talking books, a play-back unit is necessary and a limited number may be loaned, but the frequent reader would be better served to purchase their own. They cost between $50 - $100. It is hoped service clubs would consider this a worthwhile project to participate in.

Information on these services can be obtained from the librarian. Phone 939-3292.

Accommodation needed for games visitors

By Margaret Yacyshen

The Morinville Commonwealth Games Committee has been formed to assist in providing accommodation for visitors to the Games in Edmonton from August 3 - 12. Three areas are being developed in Morinville as accommodation outlets. The first is the old convent which is being upgraded to house up to 100 students. Only organized groups of students travelling with chaperones will be accepted.

The second area is the development of Heritage Lake as a site for trailers and tents. A fee of $4 per night for trailers and $2 per night for tents has been set by the committee.

The third plan, to provide extra accommodation, is one which originates in Edmonton and is entitled "Operation Open Door." Its success in Morinville depends upon the response of the residents here. Anyone who would like to rent a room to one or more visitors to the Games may submit their name. All interested renters will have an interview with personnel from the Commonwealth Games in Edmonton and an approved accommodation sticker will be mailed with verification. Fixed accommodation rates have been set by the Commonwealth Games Committee and vary according to the number of people housed. To register for Operation Open House or to obtain additional information contact either Germaine Belland at 939-4559 or Gabrielle Ricard at 939-4197.

To co-ordinate with the various areas of accommodation being offered in Morinville, breakfast will be available at the Recreation Centre every morning of the Games. The price will be reasonable and the meal will be open to everyone.
